A Statement.

January 10, 1905.

In the "Times" this morning an article appeared over the signature of its regular political writer, Robert W. Herbert, in which a series of statements were made relative to the contest for Senator Quay's seat in the United States Senate, which, if true, compromise severely the memory of several dead and the reputations of many living men.

In so far as the statements of that article relate to Mr. Henry W. Oliver, or to his executors, or to myself, they are absolutely and unqualifiedly without foundation. Mr. Henry W. Oliver never held any judgment notes or other paper upon which the name of Senator Quay or of Senator Penrose or of Insurance Commissioner Durham appeared. He never loaned any money to any of those gentlemen for political purposes, and his executors never held any claim, directly or indirectly, against them, or any of them, or against anybody else of a political nature. If Henry W. Oliver had been living at the time of Senator Quay's death he would have been selected as United States Senator, not by reason of any financial obligation or arrangement, but because his fellow citizens would have chosen him as the man of all others best qualified for the place. When my name was considered for the Senatorship the question of money was never mentioned to me by any of the leaders who were kind enough to express their preference for me. If I had taken the place I would have taken it, as Senator Knox afterward did, free from any obligation, financial or otherwise, expressed or implied. The article referred to is a gross libel upon many other men, and, as I verily believe, the statements concerning them are as false as those concerning my dead brother and myself.

SCOTT WAS UNANIMOUS CHOICE FOR SENATOR

Talk of Opposition Died Out Early and Caucus United on Harmonious Selection.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHARLESTON, W. VA., Jan. 10.—Senator N. B. Scott was tonight nominated by acclamation to succeed himself in the United States senate by the Republicans of the West Virginia legislature to assemble tomorrow.

There had been talk of a fight to be made on Scott, but after he arrived here today from Washington, not a man could be found who had any thought of opposing him. It was said the test would come on a proposition to postpone the holding of a caucus to nominate for a week or 10 days, but soon after the senator's arrival an agreement to hold the caucus tonight was circulated, and the members all signed it as fast as it got to them.

When the caucus met it was all Scott, and he was nominated by acclamation after speeches filled with encomiums upon his ability and character had been delivered. He was present and accepted the nomination in a brief speech.

Col. Fred Paul Grosscup, a gas operator and traction man, was chosen speaker unanimously, the opposition fading away at the last moment. Former Clerk Harry Shaw of Marion county was re-elected for his third term. G. A. Northcott, a merchant of Huntington, was chosen president of the senate by a margin of three after a close contest, while Clerk Harris was re-elected for the fifth time.

Financial Troubles Cause Factional Leaders to Plan Overthrow of Government.

The leaders of the revolutionary movement, it is declared, have appealed to President Cabrera to improve the country's finances without success, and they propose deposing him.

The revolutionists are demanding modified tariffs and better pay for the soldiers, who have not been paid in full for several months. According to the report, the dissatisfied troops will revolt at the first opportunity.

GOV. ADAMS TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

Walks Into Colorado Legislature Arm-in-Arm With Peabody, His Rival.

BITTER CONTEST WILL BEGIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DENVER, Jan. 10.—Standing beneath the draped folds of the American flag, while the walls about him and the floor beneath him trembled in response to cannon that roared a salute in his honor, Alva Adams was today inaugurated governor of Colorado. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Gabbert. At the side of Gov. Adams stood the athletic form of retiring Gov. James Peabody who will tomorrow begin an energetic and bitter contest for the governorship.

Arm in arm, Gov. Peabody and Gov.-elect Adams entered the capitol. Lieut.-Gov. Haggott, presiding over the joint session of the legislature, greeted both men with a handshake as they stepped upon the rostrum.

Gov. Adams in his inaugural address said:

"The election scandals in Denver, Teller, Pueblo, Huerfano, Las Animas and some other counties indicate a needed change in our election laws and demand the enactment of an honest and efficient primary law, but in framing your election laws, see that their meshes are strong enough to hold the big election thief as well as the small.

Former Gov. Peabody's notice of contest will be filed on January 13, the last day allowed under the law.

The hearing of the contest will consume at least six weeks. The personnel of the committee which will hear the evidence will rest with Lieut.-Gov. Jesse F. McDonald, who is a Republican.

Neither man will be seated by an arbitrary act of the legislature, if the result of the recount shows his opponent to have a clear majority of votes legally cast. Men representing the great corporate and financial interests of Colorado have made it plain to the legislative leaders that the investigation must be clean and thorough, and the report of the committee honest. Any other line of action, they declare, will seriously injure the business reputation of the state, and cannot be permitted.

Col. A. R. Greene, special inspector of the interior department, has returned from a secret mission to Wisconsin, the home of Horace G. McKinley, whose dealings in Oregon and Washington timber lands are said to have reached enormous proportions.

Consequently, when the locomotive met the passenger train the wreck occurred which caused the death of two persons and the injury of a number of others. An inquest will be held when the injured trainmen are able to testify.

MRS. DUKE WILL PUT UP A FIGHT

Retains Eminent Counsel to Obtain Husband's Release from the Sanitarium.

SHE HAS ELUDED DETECTIVES

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, whose marriage to Brodie L. Duke resulted in his incarceration in Sanford Hall sanitarium, in Flushing, intends to fight the relatives of her husband. Backed by Mrs. Desplaines, she has retained Champe S. Andrews and has instructed him to spare neither pains nor expense in effecting the release of the tobacco man by writ of habeas corpus. Incidentally the Webb-Duke woman has disappeared and cannot be found in the city by the detectives employed by the district attorney and the Duke family. It is believed she is in Connecticut.

Brodie L. Duke passed an uneventful day in his luxurious prison. When addressed by a reporter, Mr. Duke made no sign that he heard the greeting.

B. Lawrence Duke, Jr., son of the elder Duke, is confined in his bed in the Hoffman house with an injury, sustained in the hunting field in North Carolina. He said today the family had placed ample evidence of a conspiracy in the district attorney's hands.

Alice L. Webb Duke has had a remarkable career. From an orphan asylum in Buffalo, she appeared in New York 26 years ago. Saying she had married George L. Hopkinson, a wealthy perfume manufacturer, she commenced a suit for alimony in 1893, but the suit was dismissed. As Mrs. Murat Masterson she is said to have attempted to shoot the man who figured as her husband, in a West Twenty-sixth street apartment, March 12, 1890. Husband and wife were arrested and subsequently discharged. Mrs. Desplaines, also with a record, is said to be a daughter of a boarding house keeper the Webb woman lived with in the late 70s.

District Attorney Jerome is obtaining evidence to corroborate the statement of E. T. Osbaldeston, the former Pittsburgh massage operator, that several bands of women are operating in this city with dissipated wealthy men as their victims. Osbaldeston said today that when he first saw Duke and the Webb woman together, before their marriage, he found Duke suffering from a cold. He added:

"He was much under the influence of liquor or drugs. Mrs. Desplaines, when I was through with him, mixed something; what she put in one glass looked like whisky and from another she took what seemed to be milk. She poured it together and gave it to Mr. Duke, and in a few minutes he fell back on the pillow, his jaw dropped and he was asleep and breathing hard.

"When I called the day after the marriage, Mrs. Duke came to me and, showing me her marriage certificate, said: 'Now address me as Mrs. Duke with $20,000,000. Oh, my God, what I have gone through and suffered in the last few weeks to get to this I can't tell you, but, thank God, it's over.'"

Osbaldeston said he had a prejudice against Mrs. Desplaines because he believed she was responsible for luring away his daughter. He admitted he had been arrested in Montreal in company with a woman named Louisa Weiss, and that after they had gone to Europe and had returned he was in an insane asylum in Montreal for several months.

NIEDRINGHAUS FACES A BOODLING CHARGE

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., Jan. 10.—Representative Grace of St. Louis today introduced a resolution in the lower house of the general assembly, calling for an investigation of the report that St. Louis brewers had given $21,000 to Thomas K. Niedringhaus, chairman of the state Republican committee, and caucus nominee for United States senator, to influence legislation during the present session of the legislature.

PUNY ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP STATUE

"Bomb" Exploded Near Frederick the Great Monument at Washington.

NO CLUE TO GUILTY PERSON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Somewhat of a sensation was caused in this city today by the discovery of what appeared to be a definite and serious attempt to blow up or deface the statue of Frederick the Great, given to the United States by Emperor William of Germany, and erected in the Arsenal grounds near the army war college, on the Potomac water front in the southern part of the city. It was believed at first that a crank had made a real effort at destruction of the statue, but after a careful investigation the police officials say the material used was incapable of producing damaging results.

All the evidence so far secured, the police announced tonight, tends to show that the attempted effort to injure the statue was puny and amateurish to a degree. It is regarded as an attempt to work up a sensation. The police are making a thorough investigation, but thus far have not discovered any clue as to the identity of the perpetrator of the affair, the man who placed the "bomb" near the statue disappearing before identification.

The statue of Frederick the Great was unveiled in November, in the presence of the president and a large number of army and navy officers and the diplomatic corps.

A hole in the soft mud about six inches deep by six inches wide and 12 inches long, 18 shattered window panes in nearby buildings and five or six splotches of yellow clay on as many granite steps summed up the damage done by the bomb, which had been placed on a high picket fence surrounding the statue.

The facts developed by Detectives Muller and Cornwall, who were assigned to the case, show that Arthur Carter, a negro hackman, took the man thought to have perpetrated the affair from the Pennsylvania railroad to the statue. The stranger ran up the short flight of granite steps and disappeared behind the pedestal of the statue. A minute later he ran back to the cab and the hackman noticed that the stranger's grip was missing. The stranger jumped into the cab and ordered the hackman to drive out of the grounds as quickly as possible. Soon after getting out of the grounds the stranger jumped out, paid the hackman and disappeared toward the river front.

Post Baker Reiger, at the barracks had seen the cab drive up and stop, the man jump out and run toward the statue with a satchel under his arm from which smoke was issuing, but he could not see what became of the man because his view of the statue was shut off by an office building. An instant later it exploded. Soldiers and civilians all through the reservation heard the report. Nearly all force was taken from the explosion because the substance was confined by nothing heavier than the imitation leather sides of the small suit case. It was variously estimated that from one to five pounds of the substance were in the suit case which was blown to atoms. Three pieces of it were picked up afterward as were the pieces of wire which held the "bomb" to the wooden fence and a twisted piece of metal which is believed to have been part of the frame of the suit case.

A tiny section of cigar box with an equally tiny piece of burnt candle fastened in the bottom also was found. One effect of the explosion was the hurried building of a small watchbox beside the statue, where a watchman will be stationed all the time hereafter.

ELIAS CASE UP TODAY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—According to attorney for Hannah Elias, both sides are anxious to begin the trial of the suit of John R. Platt to recover $985,000 which the plaintiff asserts the Elias woman extorted from him. The case was marked ready today and passed until tomorrow by Justice Bischoff.

Several of the allegations made in the complaint will be admitted by the defendant. The contest will be centered to the allegation that the negress forced the plaintiff to give her large sums of money by

REFUSES MONEY TO BUY SITES

Council Sub-Committee Reduces Appropriation of Central Board.

CUTS OUT $205,000

New Bill Is to Be Introduced Into the Legislature Limiting the School Expenditures.

HELMOLD INVITES A SUIT

Pittsburgh councils will not make an appropriation this year to establish a fund to buy new high school sites. This was decided upon yesterday afternoon by the sub-committee on appropriations, which met in Mayor Hays' office, with the mayor present, and unanimously voted that the $205,000 asked for a high school site be stricken from the estimates of the central board of education and that the appropriation for education for 1905 be fixed at $1,005,000, instead of $1,300,000, the amount the central board asked.

"They will never get the money to establish a fund to buy high school sites," said Chairman Helmold of the sub-committee, "unless they go into court and force us to appropriate the money, and I don't think the courts will order councils to do this, because no site for the high school has been picked. We do not propose to use the money of taxpayers to establish a fund to be used in real estate speculation.

New Law to Be Enacted.

"This matter will not stop here," said Chairman Helmold. "A bill will be introduced in the present legislature to limit the authority of the central board of education in expending money. Under the present law the central board can ask for any amount it pleases, and councils must appropriate it, regardless of whether councils believe the amount is exorbitant or not. In this case we believe the courts will uphold us, because central board has no site to purchase, at least, none has been selected. We are willing to take the chance, if there is any doubt about our position, for we believe that we are right.

"The scandal over the proposed purchases of high school sites has been a lesson to the citizens of Pittsburgh. While the present law is not believed to be constitutional, a bill to amend it will be introduced at the present session of the legislature."

The law to which Chairman Helmold refers was enacted in 1878 and is as follows:

In cities of the second class, the council board of education shall ascertain and determine the amount of money necessary for conducting the schools of said cities, and shall certify the same to councils on or before the second Monday of January in each year; and the councils shall add the amount so certified to the aggregate of taxes required for said cities, and shall appropriate the same for the purposes aforesaid.

Sub-Committee Finds Loop-Hole.

The sub-committee and councils of last year, in making up the annual appropriations refused to appropriate $300,000 for the purchase of the Magee high school site on the technicality that the central board of education passed a resolution which provided that the Magee site should be purchased upon the condition that councils appropriated the $300,000. Councils seized upon this defect as its reason for not complying with the law of 1878, and this contention was upheld by the courts. In the present instance councils will rely upon the contention that there is no tangible evidence that the central board intends to buy a high school site at all, because none has been selected.

The finance committee of the central board, in preparing the estimates for this year omitted any sum for a high school site, but when the committee reported to the central board last Friday night the sum of $250,000 was inserted and was stricken out by the sub-committee of councils yesterday.

President W. N. Frew of the Carnegie library was to have told the sub-committee yesterday where the receipts of the music hall go to, but sent word he was not prepared then to appear and would communicate today with Chairman Helmold.

OHLIGER FURNISHES BAIL; PARTNER GOES TO JAIL

Wooster Bankers Arraigned in Court at Cleveland—Bond Fixed at $15,000.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 10.—L. P. Ohliger and J. R. Zimmerman, defaulting officials of the Wooster (O.) National bank, arrived here late this afternoon in custody of two secret service men from Victoria, B. C., where they were placed under arrest several days ago, charged with embezzling the funds of the bank.

The two bankers were at once arraigned before United States Commissioner Marlatt and waived preliminary hearing. Bail was fixed at $15,000 in each case. Ohliger furnished bond at once through a local surety company. Zimmerman was unable to secure bond and remained in the custody of a deputy marshal during the night. Ohliger said he expected to return to Wooster within a few days.

The bank, which was closed November 19, is said to have a shortage of nearly $700,000. Ohliger and Zimmerman, who were respectively president and chairman of the board of directors of the concern, disappeared. Secret service men were put on their trail and finally found them through letters written by Ohliger to his family in Wooster, from Victoria.

QUESTION ONE FOR CONGRESS

President Leaves Tariff Revision to Members for Their Decision.

NO EXTRA SESSION

Poll of State Delegations in the House Showing Majority Against Proposition.

OPPOSED BY PENNSYLVANIANS

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 30, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.

President Roosevelt's announcement from the White House this evening that he would leave the question of tariff revision entirely to congress and abide by their decision in the matter, came as the result of two days of agitation and missionary work upon the part of the "stand pat" element. In view of the president's statement it is improbable that any action toward revising the present tariff law will be taken at this time. The president stands ready to call an extra session whenever the house of representatives and the senate desire to consider the tariff, but there is practically no possibility of an extra session for this purpose.

Pennsylvania Republicans in the house of representatives are solidly opposing an extra session of congress for the purpose of revising the tariff. They are "stand patters" from the First district to the Thirty-second and they have put themselves on record to this effect. In short the Keystone state has taken the lead in the movement for "letting well enough alone" and other states are following its example. Today the following paper was circulated among the Republican members from Pennsylvania:

Signed by Pennsylvanians.

"We, the undersigned Republican members of the Pennsylvania delegation in the house of representatives of the fifty-eighth congress, oppose holding an extra session of the fifty-ninth congress for the purpose of changing, revising or amending the Dingley tariff act and we believe that the agitation of the question at this time is neither necessary nor desirable."

This paper is signed by Representatives Dalzell, Malbon, Dresser, Smith, Patterson, Butler, Porter, Olmsted, Adams, McCreary, Reeder, Brown, Cassel, Bibbs, Cooper, Moon, Sibley, Palmer, Huff, Lafean and Connell. The other Republican members of the delegation are Representatives Bingham, Caster, Morrell, Wagner, Wright, Acheson, Reber and Dermer. It is stated that all of these will sign the paper making the delegation solidly opposed to an extra session.

There is talk of a caucus of the house Republicans and if one is held this expression of the Pennsylvania delegation will be presented to it. Speaker Cannon is in favor of holding a caucus and it is possible that this may be done, but that will be determined after the leaders have had an opportunity to canvass the situation more thoroughly.

Opposed by the Senators.

Senator Penrose is already on record as opposed to any change in the tariff at this time and although Senator Knox has not made any public expression on the subject it is believed that he will not dissent from the opinion of the state representatives of Pennsylvania.

Other states are following the example of Pennsylvania and securing the consensus of the opinion of their delegations. New York Republicans are against an extra session for tariff revision with the exception of Representatives Payne, Perkins and Douglas, who are on the fence. It is possible that they may be influenced by the overpowering majority in the delegation and align with the other "stand patters."

Ohio is lining up with the "stand patters" and Representative Grosvenor stated this evening that he had the signatures of 14 Republican members from that state and expected to get all the others. He said that all who were in the city had signed and he felt certain that the action of the delegation would be unanimous. This opinion is not shared by other Ohio Republicans, who say that there will be several dissenters.

Iowa Delegation Divided.

Iowa, the home of the "Iowa idea," that has stirred up so much excitement within the ranks of the Republican party within the past two years, will not present an unbroken front for tariff revision. It is anticipated that the majority will back up the "Iowa idea" and favor an extra session for the purpose of revising the schedules, but several members from that state have expressed the opinion that the party should not disturb existing conditions.

The extra session and revision strength is expected to come from the west and northwest and from New England, where local reasons lead to a desire upon the part of some for changes in the present law.

When the president summoned a number of congressional leaders to the White House Saturday to confer with him on this and other questions, he stated that it was for the purpose of ascertaining their views. It is the purpose of the "stand pat" members to collect the views of the members for the purpose of guiding him. No break between the president and the house leaders is threatened by this action.

While the president is willing to defer to congress on tariff revision, on the question of legislation relating to the interstate freight rates of railroads, his mind is quite made up. He will fight for that legislation and fight hard. He so stated at the conference. He also asked members to not cut the naval appropriation.

MRS. WEBB-DUKE IN PITTSBURGH

She Tried to Interest Local Capitalists in Her Texas Tobacco Project.

HER EFFORTS UNSUCCESSFUL

If Alice L. Webb-Duke, whose financial operations are said to be of a character similar to those of Mrs. Chadwick, did not succeed in involving Pittsburgh business men in her tobacco-growing ventures in Texas, it is not because she did not try. The woman was in Pittsburgh as recently as two months ago, and called at the office of Frank R. Tomb, a real estate and insurance broker at 803 Farmers Bank building.

Mr. Tomb has known the woman for several years, and it was reported that he had invested considerable money in the tobacco scheme in Nacogdoches county, Texas, but Mr. Tomb denies this.

Mr. Tomb admitted that he had been on trips to Texas several times within the past year, but asserts his visits there were for the purpose of "looking over the ground."

"I have no interest in Texas oil, Texas tobacco or any other product of that state," said Mr. Tomb.

When asked to tell what he knew of Mrs. Webb-Duke, Mr. Tomb said:

"I met the woman first about two years ago in Chicago. The Southern Railway Company had a convention of its immigration agents there. Their business was to advertise the resources of Texas. Miss Webb, as I knew the woman, was in Chicago at that time, and the Webb-Taylor Company, of which she was a member, was active in the agents' convention. I was given to understand that the Webb-Taylor Company owned large tracts of land in Texas and was selling stock in a company to cultivate tobacco on a large scale.

"I became pretty well acquainted with the woman, and have always regarded her as strictly honest and honorable. Her company has offices at Nacogdoches, Tex., and, I understood, was on a good financial basis. I don't know anything about the woman's domestic affairs, but I understood she had been married to a man named Powell in Pittsburgh, and that after securing a divorce she resumed her maiden name.

"There is at least one man who does not believe what "Dr." E. Theobald Osbaldeston, the masseur who has again sprung into notoriety through the Duke-Webb case in New York, says. That man is Frank W. Lucas, who afterward married the woman whom Osbaldeston persecuted in Germany, killing a man named Wilt, whom he suspected of being her admirer, and a pedestrian who got in the way of the bullets intended for Wilt.

"After being tried and acquitted on the ground of insanity, Osbaldeston came back to the United States, and from New York wrote letters to Mrs. Lucas, containing all kinds of threats. For a time detectives watched the Lucas dwelling, then in Broad street, East End, to catch Osbaldeston if he came. He remained in New York, however, but ever since he has been sending letters to the Lucases.

"I don't believe a word Osbaldeston says," said Lucas yesterday. "He is a liar. The fellow is after notoriety, for which he has an insatiable appetite."

Mrs. Lucas was not at home and her husband said she was so sick and disgusted with Osbaldeston that she did not want to hear anything about him.

Little credence is given the report by the attaches at the Seventh Avenue hotel that E. H. Powell is the divorced husband of Mrs. Brodie Duke. Mr. Powell was for four years chief steward at the hotel, leaving there about eight years ago. He made many friends while at the hotel, among them being B. F. Shreffler, who was then clerk, but now manager. He said last evening:

"I do not think Powell ever married Mrs. Duke. He was about 40 years of age when he left the Seventh Avenue. He was manager of a restaurant in the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo. Since that time I lost track of him until a few weeks ago, when he came to the hotel late one evening and left on the 3 o'clock train the following morning. He is a southerner, but I do not know his home. He was a good steward, but appeared to have little financial ability."

WOULD HAVE DIVORCE.

Husband of Pittsburgh Woman Says She Bought Flowers for Other Men and Used Him Roughly.

That his wife bought American beauty roses and other flowers for men friends; that she was cruel, neglectful, guilty of infidelity, drank and often beat him, are some of the reasons set forth in an appeal for divorce made in Cincinnati by the husband of Mrs. Carrie Hass Spiro-Teasdale, formerly of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Teasdale is the widow of Alexander Spiro, a former Pittsburgh attorney, who committed suicide here shortly after his wife had begun action for divorce. Last February she was married to Teasdale in Steubenville. The latter conducts a large dyeing establishment in Cincinnati. He names Geraid G. Schoenberger, a prominent Cincinnati produce man, as co-respondent and asks for an injunction restraining his wife from destroying the furniture in their home. Teasdale was a divorced man when he married Mrs. Spiro.

Mrs. Teasdale's mother, who resides in the East End, stated yesterday that rumors to the effect that her daughter had come to the city were false, that she was not here and was not expected to leave Cincinnati.

BATTLEFIELD HEROINE SUCCUMBS TO STROKE

Mrs. Sarah H. Sample of Millvale Dead—Lost Husband and Sons in War.

Mrs. Sarah H. Sample, aged 86, widow of Capt. Jeremiah H. Sample, a well known resident of Millvale, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. M. Munn, 701 North avenue, Millvale, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock of apoplexy. She was born in Lancaster and for more than 76 years had been an active worker in the Methodist Episcopal church, joining the church at the age of 10 years. In 1840 she was married to Jeremiah H. Sample of Lancaster. Mrs. Sample removed to Allegheny in 1847. At the outbreak of the civil war her husband organized the Graham rifles, which was one of the first companies to respond to the call for troops. As a company of the One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Pennsylvania volunteers this company fought through the war. Capt. Sample, with his two sons, Joseph M. and John M., fought in this company until Mr. Sample was shot at the battle of Gettysburg. His son, John, saw his father fall, but was unable to assist him, as he himself was wounded nine times in the same charge. Mrs. Sample reached the battlefield three days after the battle and amid the scenes of desolation nursed her husband for two weeks, when he died. She then brought the body to Allegheny, where it was given a military funeral.

Both sons of Mrs. Sample lost their lives during the war. Joseph died while serving in the cavalry and John, who had reached the grade of a major, was captured by the Confederates in a camp in the wilderness and died shortly after being released from Libby prison. Mrs. Sample went to Millvale 30 years ago and was active in the First Methodist church of that place. She was an active member of the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny. She was well known throughout Millvale as a singer and appeared at many church concerts. Of her 11 children, but four survive, as follows: Mrs. Belle Jordan, Mrs. Munn and Mrs. Ella Sprague of Millvale, and Mrs. Alice Connelly of Upper Mount Clair; also by 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Isabel Grace, daughter of Mrs. May Little of Kansas City, Kas. Thomas J. Sample, the well known G. A. R. man of Allegheny, is a nephew of Mrs. Sample.

WILL GO TO LITTLE ROCK.

Troubles of A. M. E. Church to Be Taken to Council of Bishops.

The troubles of Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church are to be taken before the council of bishops, which meets in Little Rock, Ark., January 18. The Rev. I. S. Lee, former pastor of the church, and a committee of the members will attend the sessions and ask that justice be given their pastor.

The fight which has been on in this church for some time, is no nearer a settlement today than when it opened. There is no hope of healing the breach. Only a handful of the membership is left with the present pastor, the Rev. W. S. Lowry, to whom the majority of the members objected. They left the church and followed Dr. Lee. Now they propose to form a new church of that denomination, if their wrongs are righted at Little Rock. If not, they will withdraw from the African Methodist Episcopal church altogether and form a Congregational church. It will be the only negro organization of that denomination in this vicinity and will be one of the strongest churches of the sect in the state, as it has over 400 willing and earnest working members.

HEART DISEASE KILLS THREE.

Coroner Notified of Three Deaths in One Day from This Cause.

The coroner was notified yesterday that Mrs. Lucia McCormick, aged 54, of Robinson township; John A. Smith, aged 50, of 4006 Penn avenue, and John Cosgrove of Glenwood died from heart disease.

Mrs. S. H. Sample, aged 86, of 701 North avenue, Millvale, yesterday died from apoplexy while sitting in a chair in her room. The woman had just finished her lunch and when she sat in the chair she died.

Peter Pasela, aged 35, of Carnegie, was killed by a train in the Sheraden yards of the Panhandle railroad yesterday morning.

JOLLY ADMIRALS GAVE TOTTEN BEST WISHES

The round white dome of the Nixon theater building was the scene of a quaint ceremony last night when the bachelor friends of W. H. Totten, treasurer of the Sixth avenue playhouse, gave him their congratulations and best wishes on his approaching marriage. It was the jolly admirals in the local port of the Flying Squadron that were responsible for the merriment. When they shouted, "Ahoy, there," their words had some significance. Ahoys were given by James Conant, Thomas F. Kirk, Jr., Fred Meek, manager of the "Wizard of Oz" company; Harry Brickell, Emil Wolf, S. Friedman, Charles M. Bregg, dramatic editor of The Gazette; J. Underwood, who is here arranging for Savage's presentation of "Parsifal;" Edward McLaughlin, J. L. Kelly and Thomas F. Kirk, Sr.

WOULD NOT AUTHORIZE HIGH SALARIES FOR ENGINEERS

At a meeting of the committee on public works of Allegheny councils last night the ordinance fixing the salary of the assistant engineers at the Broad street pumping station at $1,200 a year was amended to the effect that the salary be made $1,000. It was argued that as the new pumps will be run by electricity, there is no need for high-salaried assistants in the engineers' room.

Arranging for Sewickley Hospital.

The committee vested with authority to establish a hospital for the Sewickley valley met yesterday at the home of Mrs. George P. Over 40 prominent residents of Sewickley are interested in the enterprise.

GREAT LAKE PLANNED FOR PANAMA CANAL

Member of Commission Said It Would Make Feasible Sea Level Waterway.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—C. E. Grunsky, a member of the Panama canal commission read a paper tonight before a meeting of the resident members of the American Society of Civil Engineers in which he told about the conditions at Panama and the work in hand.

The borings which the commission has made at Gamboa, he said, indicate there will be no difficulty in securing a good foundation across Chagres river at that point and it is quite probable that the commission will see its way clear to the erection of an early dam of huge dimensions at this point, which would create above it a lake with a surface extent of about 30 square miles, the rise and fall of which would prove a great equalizer of the flow of Chagres river, and make the diversion of a portion of this river's flood flow to the Pacific slope feasible.

This, he said, would go far toward so reducing the amount of water to be handled in the canal that its flow would not seriously impede the passage of vessels in a sea level.

SPAHR DID NOT QUALIFY.

Several Candidates in Thirteenth Ward Put Up Their Assessments.

Some of the candidates suggested at the Republican suggestion meeting in the Thirteenth ward the other night put up their assessment money last night and now maintain they are the only men who can go before the Republican primaries, Alderman Emil Spahr, candidate for re-election, and Oscar Adams, candidate for school director, did not hand in their money, as they dispute the validity of the suggestion meeting. J. W. Neff, Spahr's rival, said last night that Spahr was trying to get the Citizens-Democratic nomination.

Those who qualified are Neff; three candidates for school director, John P. Seth, John Friesel and Frederick Baumeister; Henry Lennix for constable, and for assessor, Christien Woolf.

Gomez Not Presidential Candidate.

HAVANA, Jan. 10.—Gen. Maximo Gomez has published a letter declining to allow himself to be mentioned as a candidate for the presidency. Gen. Gomez has frequently been mentioned as a possible candidate, especially in connection with his reiterated policy of paying revolutionary veterans in full in accordance with the lists, instead of effecting a compromise, which was the plan tentatively favored by the Palma administration.

THE KAISER DECORATES NOGI AND STOESSEL

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Emperor William has conferred on Gen. Stoessel and Gen. Nogi the Order of Pour le Merite in recognition of the bravery of themselves and their troops at Port Arthur. His majesty has asked the Russian and Japanese emperors to authorize Gens. Stoessel and Nogi to accept the decorations.

Port Arthur's Real Defender.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Daily Telegraph's Port Arthur correspondent says that, according to stories by prisoners, the real defender of the fortress was Maj.-Gen. Kondratenko, commander of the Seventh East Siberian rifle brigade, who was killed December 15, and that had he lived it is probable the fortress would not have been surrendered. Gen. Stoessel, the correspondent adds, was inclined to surrender as early as last August.

Mines Keep on Exploding.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The correspondent at Port Arthur of the Daily Mail says that on January 8, 20 Japanese were killed by the explosion of a contact mine inside one of the forts, and that two mines in the town also exploded.

EXPLOSION KILLS ONE AND BURNS TWO OTHERS

Slav Laborers Caught in Shower of Hot Metal When Furnace Let Go.

Another explosion occurred early yesterday morning at the Edgar Thomson plant of the Carnegie Steel Company in Braddock, causing the death of one man and the injury of two others.

THE DEAD.

JACOB SHOSKA, aged 21, of River avenue, Braddock; died at noon at Mercy hospital of burns.

THE INJURED.

MICHAEL SHETER, aged 27, of Pine alley, Braddock; burned on head and back; taken home.

PETER TACOTSH, aged 30, of Washington avenue, Braddock; burned on head and body; taken home.

The explosion occurred at furnace "E" at 2 o'clock, and was caused by "hang." The furnace had been working badly for some time before the mass of molten material inside slipped and fell to the bottom, throwing molten iron about the yards. The workmen, all of whom were Slavs, were standing about the bottom of the furnace.

ASK FOR MORE TIME.

Former County Officials Want to Delay Answer to Fee Question Until Attorney Returns.

The county officials against whom Controller Cunningham intends to file suits unless they pay into the treasury the fees retained by them, want more time, and as yesterday was the last day for them to answer the summons against them, requested that Attorney G. H. Calvert postpone action until City Solicitor Rodgers returns to the city. Efforts toward a settlement are pending and the answers may be delayed until Mr. Rodgers returns. The matter was put up to Controller Cunningham, and if he does not consent, suits will probably be entered at once.

The claims may include officials who held the office for many years back. Mr. Calvert has the matter well in hand and is prepared to act at once. It is said the question of settlement will be discussed by the attorneys upon the return of Mr. Rodgers, in case the controller grants a short delay.

WOMAN HAS SERIOUS BURNS.

Son Also Suffers in Trying to Aid Her. Caused by the Exploding of a Lamp.

Mrs. Teresa Hickey, aged 50, was taken to the Allegheny General hospital last night suffering with fearful burns caused by the explosion of a lamp at the family home, 804 Carpenter alley, Allegheny. Reed Harris, a son of the woman, aged 23, is suffering from burns on the hands and arms. His injuries were received while he was trying to give aid to his mother.

Wrapping a heavy overcoat about her, he ran into the back yard and rolled the burning woman in the drifted snow. Before the flames were entirely extinguished Mrs. Hickey had suffered burns that the hospital physician declared at once were fatal.

An alarm was sent to Central police station that an entire family had been burned and wagons from patrol stations 1 and 2 were hurried to the scene of the explosion. A small fire that followed the explosion of the lamp was extinguished by neighbors.

WANT A SYNAGOGUE SITE.

Probability That It Will Be Found in Oakland or Bellefield.

The committee of six, three from Pittsburgh and three from Allegheny, which was appointed by the Rodeph Shalom Jewish congregation to get a site for a new synagogue, in getting the matter in shape to present to the congregation. In order to satisfy the Allegheny members, it is reported that a site in the Oakland or Bellefield districts will be secured, as the Highland or Squirrel Hill sections, also mentioned as possible localities for the new synagogue, are too far away. The Samson property at Fifth avenue and Darragh street has been spoken of as a suitable site, but so far as known no option has been secured from the new owner, Frank McCann.

The Eighth Street temple will be given up to the Second Presbyterian church February 1, and the Jewish congregation will worship in the Carnegie music hall in Allegheny, holding its Sunday school in the North public school hall at Eighth street and Duquesne Way.

WILL APPEAL TO C. P. A.

Traveling Salesmen Want the Exchangeable Baggage Coupon Book.

James W. Wardrop, secretary and manager of the M. & M. A., left last night to attend the meeting of the Central Passenger association meeting in Chicago today. He will be joined by representatives from Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo and Cincinnati. The party will appear before the C. P. A., requesting that an interchangeable excessive baggage book be established in the C. P. A. territory.

Traveling salesmen have been making an effort for several years to have the association put on the market a book with coupons to be used for excess baggage. A book will be more convenient to salesmen, as they can check the excessive baggage along without having it weighed at every station from which it is shipped. When baggage is once weighed it can be taken to any point by the passenger giving the conductor excessive baggage coupons.

At a special meeting of the Wheeling presbytery of the Presbyterian church, Monday, the Rev. Joseph Speer resigned as moderator of the presbytery and pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Wheeling in order to affiliate himself with the Episcopalian denomination, and locate in Pittsburgh with Calvary church. Presbytery passed resolutions of high esteem for Mr. Speer as "a Christian and fellow worker in the gospel ministry," and prayed that "he may find peace and abundant blessing in another community."

FLOCK OF COMETS IN THE EAST END

Peculiar Lights in Skies Caused Consternation and Wonder for Many People.

DR. BRASHEAR GIVES A CLUE

East Enders "seen things" last night. They were in the sky—the things. Shortly after 7 o'clock a man standing in Ellsworth avenue was startled to note a curving and brilliant ray of light dart from the clouds. It appeared to be a substantial comet, apparently 15 inches wide and from 8 to 10 feet long.

Suddenly there appeared a companion piece. Then came another, and another, and a fourth. The man sought corroborative evidence. Soon a crowd gathered. Excitement ran high. Was it the millennium? Some listened for the keynotes of Gabriel's horn. Several scientists knowingly announced it was merely the aurora-borealis. Out of the assemblage a man rushed to the nearest telephone and called up The Gazette office:

"There's a bunch of fireworks in the sky," he exclaimed over the wire; "comets—out here in the East End—lots of 'em—I can count three—four—I see five now! brrrrrrrrrr!

Dr. Brashear, the eminent astronomer, was informed of the phenomena and asked for an accounting. "Wait," he replied over the phone, "I'll have a look." Now, last night's "comets" must be knowing things, for when Dr. Brashear returned to the phone he announced that they had all gone to cover. He had searched the sky even as far as the East End, but no fireworks. Everything was as quiet on Saturn and Jupiter as things are on an election day in Pennsylvania.

"It was merely a reflection of the gas wells and Bessemer converters, or possible the furnaces, against the sky," declared Dr. Brashear. "This is very common during this season of the year. The frost crystals in the air form a background for this reflection, and the size of these apparent comets are regulated by the size of the flame reflected, while their movement is regulated in accord with that of the flame. These demonstrations are easily distinguished from the real comet by the nature of their movements. While the comet rises in the east and sets in the west, these counterfeits seldom move, and then only with the source of the reflection. They are seen when the skies appear clear to the eye, while, of course, the frost crystals have to be there to form the necessary background. I have seen as many as 17 at a time at this season in this neighborhood."

LANE COMING BACK.

Witnesses from the East Will Testify Against Him and His Manager.

Charles A. Lane, the banker and broker, whose offices in the Keystone bank building were closed by the police a week ago, will be brought from Chicago to Pittsburgh by Postoffice Inspector F. A. O'Brien this morning. Lane was arrested in Chicago Monday.

Lane, with his manager, Richard Oliver, who was arrested by the local police at the time the offices were closed, will be given a hearing Friday afternoon before United States Commissioner Lindsey. They are charged with using the mails to defraud. A specific charge of attempting to defraud T. O. Bayard of Rices Landing has been made against the men, but witnesses from Providence, R. I.; Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia, where the concern did business aggregating thousands of dollars, will be present.

TO ENCOURAGE NEW HOSPITAL

Lecturer to Speak in Interests of Institute for Tuberculosis Treatment.

In presenting a lecture next Thursday night in Carnegie Music hall by Dr. Albert P. Francine of the Henry Phipps institute of Philadelphia on the dangers of tuberculosis, the Quadru-County Graduate Nurses' association hopes to arouse a stronger sentiment toward the establishment of a hospital in the city for the treatment of that disease.

The association is composed of members from Allegheny, Washington, Beaver and Greene counties. Among prominent citizens who will occupy places on the platform will be Herbert DuPuy, Taylor Alderdice, Otis Childs, John R. McGinley, John Eaton, F. D. Harmon, Dr. L. W. Willard, Bishop J. F. R. Canevin and others. Dr. T. M. P. McKennan will preside and Dr. C. B. King will introduce the speaker.

Kellar at the Duquesne.

Kellar, the peer of magic, will be seen at the Duquesne theater next week with Valadon, an Egyptian mystic of wide fame. The combination is, beyond all odds, the strongest in the way of black art ever effected. Kellar is a trickster and not a silly believer in the supernatural and his latest spectacular sensations, "The Levitation of the Princess Karnac" and "Well, I'm ——," are masterpieces of his own peculiar art.

Early Christian Ireland.

Under the auspices of the O'Growney Gaelic society of Pittsburgh a lecture on "Early Christian Ireland" will be delivered this evening in the Lyceum hall, Washington street. This is the first of a series of lectures on Irish history which the Gaelic society proposes to give during the present year.

SMALL INCREASE ASKED FOR ALLEGHENY WORKS

Allegheny's department of public works wants $816,003 42 for the next fiscal year, an increase of $452 41 over the appropriation for the present year. A sub-committee wrestled with the figures yesterday afternoon.

The committee cut out $7,300 for a shelter house and work and supplies for Riverview park, as these items are covered by the bond ordinances. The appropriations of $4,200 for the payment of car fare to and from Montrose pumping station for employes there, caused some discussion. It was shown that an ordinance authorizing the payment of the car fare has been passed and the item was allowed to stand.

The item for repairing and painting the market house, for which $4,000 was asked, was laid over and Director McIlvain was instructed to make an estimate for thoroughly repairing and repainting the building inside and out.

Thirty thousand dollars was saved this fiscal year on the price of coal in the bureau of water and at the public light station, but the estimate for the bureau of water asked for is $345,536 70, an increase of $10,022. This is caused by the establishment of the Broad street pumping station and two new pumps at Montrose station. The estimate for the bureau of public lighting is $119,005, a decrease of $8,935. The estimate for the bureau of highways and sewers is $217,110 or $263 less than this year. The bureau of parks wants $25,855, the same as this year and the bureau of public property, $9,682 75.

Librarian E. E. Eggers asks for an increase of $2,759, owing to the establishment of the juvenile department and to pay for new shelving and $809 of an increase is asked for by H. H. Bueuto, superintendent of the library building, for repairs.

During the meeting C. F. Kirschler and John C. Oliver frequently asked why the city government is asking for increased appropriations and at the same time urging an increase in the bonded indebtedness of nearly $1,000,000. In reply City Solicitor Porter stated that the proposed bond issues are to cover debts and improvements not touched by the appropriations.

1905 Styles in Silk Shirtwaists for Special Prices.

This is a proposition which is altogether out of the ordinary, and one which women yesterday showed they appreciated highly. About every woman who came in to look at these waists ended by buying one and went away elated with the bargain.

Usually it is the outgoing season's goods which are sold below par, but in this instance the waists are new 1905 Spring styles. New, not only in design, but as to the silks which are employed in the making. Many of the same silks are shown in the piece for next Spring.

The pleasing variety of colors was a surprise to women yesterday, and will no doubt evoke exclamations of admiration again today—fashionable plain hues, stylish color-combinations and fetching plaids.

The $6.50 to $10.00 Silk Waists will sell for $4.50.
The $7.00 to $12.00 Waists will sell for $5.00.
The $9.00 to $15.00 Waists will sell for $6.00.

The Clearance of Women's Suits and Jackets.

One of the most remarkable cases of cutting prices to almost nothing is in this collection of women's Suits and Jackets. Never, since we have been in business, did we make lower prices for such goods. Nothing we could say on the subject would be too strong. In most cases the price asked wouldn't pay for the material alone—no, not by a half nor a third.

The collection is a miscellaneous one—there are all kinds of materials, about every color worn and a multitude of styles. Speaking of the assortment as a whole—every size, though, of course, not every size in each style. And now for the astonishing underprices—

The Suits—

$4.50 for each of a group of Tailored Suits that sold up to $20.00.

$6.75 for each of a group of Tailored Suits that sold up to $25.00.

$9.50 for each of a group of Tailored Suits that sold up to $35.00.

$12.50 for each of a group of Tailored Suits that sold up to $37.50.

The Jackets—

$3.00 for any of a group of Jackets whose former prices were $10.00 and $12.00.

$5.00 for any of a group of Jackets, some of which sold for as much as $25.00.

$7.50 for any of a group of Jackets, some of which sold for as much as $35.00.

$10.00 for any of a group of Jackets, some of which sold for as much as $40.00.

$50.00, formerly $100, $125, $150—

Evening Gowns, mostly imported models or reproductions of designs which have proved unusually attractive—of crepes, laces, silks, chiffons, etc.—delicate pastel and evening shades—no two alike.

It is certainly unfair to give Belgian plate glass better rates for transportation than are given to American plate glass. The American product is better than the foreign, but the difference is not of a character to warrant a different classification in railroad tariff sheets. Appeal has been taken to the interstate commerce commission. That is a slow process and at the end the commission can only make a decision that will be valuable as supporting an action in court to procure a remedy. No better illustration could be offered of the necessity for conferring upon the commission the power recommended by President Roosevelt.

The sub-finance committee is to be commended for striking out of the estimates of the central board of education the item of $205,000 "to start a fund for building the new High school." The central board has wrangled so much and is so undecided about what should be done that the public will be disposed to agree to the withholding of funds until the board gets down on earth and does something sensible. The High school site dickers and schemes have been disgusting. It would not be difficult to decide what would best secure the public welfare if the board would approach the site question with that single purpose. Until it does it needs no building fund.

The senator from Missouri to succeed Senator Cockrell is Thomas K. Niedringhaus, a wealthy St. Louis manufacturer, the Republican caucus having decided to vote for him. Mr. Niedringhaus sacrificed his business last fall to take charge of the Republican campaign in Missouri, and while he did not hope for success he tried to keep the party together in the state. But the tidal wave swept the state into the Republican column for the first time since 1868, and now the chairman is to reap the reward. Other prominent Missouri men whose names have been mentioned for the office joined in the support of Mr. Niedringhaus, who will take the office with the entire approval of the party.

The sessions of the health congress come at an opportune time, as Havana, which is entertaining the visitors, is under charges. It has been claimed the Cuban government has become lax in enforcing health regulations and in making appropriations for sanitary improvements, but this has been denied by Senor Quesada. Already over 100 exports on such matters have reached that city and their presence ought to have a salutary influence, as they can ascertain if there is any ground for the stories of neglect. The subjects for discussion deal with such practical questions as sewerage and municipal water supply and the papers presented ought to give the people valuable suggestions.

John Barrett, our minister to Panama, who recently complained of the high prices prevailing on the isthmus, is evidently willing to go elsewhere, for he advises that his position be combined with that of governor of the canal zone. There has been more or less friction between the governor and minister, and it is urged that most of the business with the legation will now concern canal questions which ought to be settled more directly and speedily than would be possible through a minister alone. The suggestion of consolidation and his own withdrawal is quite remarkable from any official, but the move would greatly simplify matters.

Louise Michel, who has just died in Paris, was no doubt the most famous anarchist in the world. Her father was a nobleman, who provided well for the education of his daughter, who early became a teacher. In early life she exhibited contradictions in character that later became more pronounced. She became more radical in her teaching until the people entered their protest against the Napoleonic dynasty, when she entered the movement with a fury almost rabid. The inconsistencies in her life were shown by her dread of blood and aversion to cruelty, while she participated in the fierce defense of the cemetery by the communists of Paris. For this she was exiled, but returned in less than 10 years. Some years ago she was again driven from France and lived in the anarchist quarter of London, but returned recently to Paris in order to end her days there. Her entire career exhibited signs of mental perversion. But there must have been something more than a lack of balance in her mental faculties, for she had the power of leadership and wrote interestingly of her life and mission.

Gov. Alva Adams of Colorado, in his inaugural yesterday, promised a just and peaceful administration. He declared that so far as he is able to compel it justice shall be done to rich and poor alike. There are praiseworthy sentiments, but the new governor marred their effect by references to the administration of his predecessor that, to say the least, were in bad taste. He added to the unfortunate effect by practically promising there should be no military interference under any circumstances. Glancing backward upon the anarchy that has existed in Colorado, one is astonished that a chance chief executive should pledge himself to give the anarchists a free hand if the ordinary civil powers were unable to cope with them, as they have been in the past.

A Malicious Falsehood.

A remarkable story appeared in the Pittsburgh Times yesterday under a Philadelphia date line and over the signature of the staff political writer of that paper. On the first page of The Gazette this morning appears a statement denying absolutely the references in the article to the late Henry W. Oliver and his executors. That part being false, it is a fair assumption the remainder of the story is also untrue. The Gazette cannot say what, if any, authority the correspondent of the Times had for his strained literary production, but it cannot conceive of any source of information that could warrant him, or his paper, in publishing the atrocious tissue of falsehoods.

No newspaper has any right to print a villainous attack upon the dead and the living without being wholly sure of its truth. In this case there is no truth. The Times and its correspondent are therefore guilty of violation of the fundamental principles of decent journalism. It is not for The Gazette to seek ulterior motives that might prompt such a breach of professional integrity, but it is within its province to expose the dereliction of the Times in accepting and printing a story that is, on its face, preposterous and of malicious purport, when the facts could have been ascertained in a few moments. They were accessible by telephone or to any reporter had one been sent.

Limitation of State Aid.

A new line of opposition to the idea that states should share in the expense of river and harbor improvement is advanced by the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune. It points out that the constitutions of Ohio and Kentucky prohibit the making of such appropriations and suggests that those of Indiana and West Virginia may do the same. From this basis it argues logically that if Pennsylvania should make an appropriation it would justly demand similar participation by the other states. They being unable to comply the whole matter would come to a standstill.

If this statement concerning the constitutional limitations of Ohio and Kentucky be accurate—and we have no reason to doubt it—Chairman Burton, who comes from Ohio, should explain why he has advanced an impossible proposition. If he was not aware of the Ohio provision he should confess the fact and withdraw his opposition to the payment by the national government for works that are obviously national in character. If he was aware of that provision he should state why he has asked from Pennsylvania what he knew his own state could not give.

Railroad Hazards.

Engineering Record gives place in its editorial columns to a statement from President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash system, affecting the use of safety devices on railroads. Thus the weight of two high authorities is combined. Mr. Ramsey says that employes protected by the best devices come to rely on them and neglect personal precautions. Thus where the block signal system is used trainmen within a block rely on the signal and fail to send out a flag. If the block operator by error lets another train in on the block a collision occurs. Again, because brakemen need not go between cars to couple with the automatic couplers, cars are handled with much less care than formerly. He recommends laws holding trainmen personally responsible.

President Ramsey is right. Observing travelers may easily verify his statements. Railroads ought to adopt every possible safety device—and this Mr. Ramsey admits—but employes must be held to strict accountability also to secure safety. There should be laws governing on both sides and other laws prohibiting the public from putting itself in jeopardy by trespassing on railroad tracks. Self-interest is apparently not sufficient to induce either the public, the railroad employes or the railroads to take every precaution that should be taken.

Attacks on Canal Commission.

So much outcry has been raised against the Panama canal commission, unwarranted by the facts in the case, that suspicion falls on former advocates of the Nicaragua route and other special interests of making a systematic campaign of abuse. Some of the charges recently published apparently emanate from the volunteer congressional committee that visited the isthmus some time ago. The committee comprised some of the ardent boomers of Nicaragua. It spent but four or five days on the canal strip, yet assumes to know more about conditions there than engineers who have been on the work for months.

Members of the congressional junketing party have been quoted since their return as saying serious friction existed between Chief Engineer Wallace and the commission. As a matter of fact the verbatim report of Mr. Wallace's statement to the committee shows that he spoke in high terms of the commission, declared it was working in harmony with him and that it had helped him in every possible way. There is no authority for statements to the contrary.

It has been charged the commission has spent nearly $2,000,000 without advertising for bids for any supplies and without securing adequate results from the expenditure. These charges are false. Supplies have been bought after competitive bidding in practically all cases. They comprise valuable property to be used in construction work. Expensive work has been done by the five engineering corps, and competent authority on engineering operations accredits those corps with more and better work than could reasonably have been expected. They have made extensive borings in five districts and have located the most available sites for dams on the Chagres river, and of tunnels and weirs for the disposal of the flood waters of that stream. Their work is essential as a preliminary to successful construction of the canal and will prevent the wasteful blunders of the French companies.

Finally, there is the charge that the commissioners are spending their time in this country when they should be on the isthmus. This is ridiculous on the face of it. They are not expected to perform the duties of field engineers or supervisors of construction. The business of the commission is largely in this country, where materials are bought, plans made, contracts awarded and specifications prepared. When the preliminary engineering has been done and construction contracts awarded the commissioners will spend more time on the isthmus, because they will have more business there, but they will need to be as much at this end of the line. There is no more reason for the commission to be in Panama at the present time than for President Ramsey of the Wabash to reside in Greene county while the plans for railroad extension in that territory are being made.

Russia's Financial Stress.

Subscriptions will be opened in Paris and Berlin tomorrow for a Russian war loan of $81,000,000. Before the fall of Port Arthur it was announced that the loan would be $110,000,000, but whether that event is responsible for a reduction of the amount asked is a matter for conjecture. The most significant feature of this loan, however, is the price at which it is offered for subscription. This price represents a yield to the investor of 6½ per cent, which is probably the highest rate any government of the first class has had to pay for the use of money in recent years. Even with this strong inducement offered for subscriptions, the continental bankers who have underwritten the loan have had difficulty in averting a failure. They have been importing gold, supplied by New York, and yesterday the rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany was reduced, evidently with the view to give the appearance of favorable money market conditions. In addition to this the French and German bankers have been compelled to support the market for Russian bonds already outstanding, and to this end have sold international securities in London in order to apply the proceeds to the purchase of bonds thrown over by Russian creditors. These conditions in foreign financial circles have undoubtedly had something to do with the hesitation displayed in Wall street since the beginning of the new year.

It does not necessarily follow that this evidence of decline in Russian credit will accelerate proposals for peace, although taken in connection with prevailing internal disorders it should have that effect. Other nations whose finances have been in even worse condition have continued to borrow at high rates and carried the struggle through to victory. In our own country, for instance, every form of credit was drawn upon to carry on the civil war during its closing years, and obligations bearing rates of interest as high as 7.3 per cent were issued. But 7.3 per cent in the early sixties under the then prevailing rates for the use of credit was low compared with today, and the striking difference between the United States in 1864-5 and Russia in 1904-5 is that the former was supported by the patriotism of its citizens, who subscribed at par in currency for more than $800,000,000 of a great war loan at a time when the markets were glutted with previous government issues, while Russia is compelled to pay foreign bankers a high commission and investors an abnormally high rate of yield because of the unwillingness or inability of its own subjects to extend aid.

There is another point in connection with this succession of war loans that is bound to attract attention. Only a few years ago, when all Europe stood in awe of the untried military prowess of Russia, the feeling was studiously cultivated by reports of the preparedness of the empire for war from a financial as well as a military and naval standpoint. The suggestion that the cost of modern warfare would act as a preventive to Russian aggression was met by mysterious references to the czar's war chest. Stories were told of a wondrous hoard containing hundreds of millions of gold that had been accumulating for a half century and held in readiness against the day of Russian need. Some economists in attempting to account for the disappearance of gold from the world's markets were inclined to consider this theory of the Russian war chest. It is within the bounds of possibility that this hoard of Russian gold is as intangible as the much-vaunted Russian military and naval prestige.

England has created the office of director of naval gunnery for the purpose of teaching her "jackies" to shoot straight. If the scheme succeeds Russia would do well to adopt it.

It is rather unfortunate that the snowfall should have come just at a time when the price of a sleigh ride had been consumed by the Christmas present you sent her.

Of all the proposed mergers under discussion the merger of those two western cold waves in the vicinity of Pittsburgh promises the most uncomfortable results.

The icy pavements are not without their compensations. They keep one so busy trying to stay on his feet that he forgets how cold it is.

It is astonishing how a disappointed applicant for a federal office can turn his anti-election enthusiasm into a disagreeable grouch.

The celebration of Jackson day by the Democrats has not had any appreciable effect upon the downward range of the thermometer.

Washington is so busy getting ready for the inauguration that it has hardly become aware of the presence of congress.

Russia gives one the impression of being perfectly willing to quit provided a reasonable excuse could be found.

Some of the frenzied finance people seem to have slackened their pace into just a plain, every day scare.

If West Virginia did not have a political row on hand all the time the state would grow very lonely.

If Colorado will come back into the Union and be good all will be forgiven.

Financially, the woman in the case seems to be growing quite numerous.

Talked of in Gotham

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Complacent New Yorkers, those solid citizens who see nothing and hear little that does not directly concern themselves, were compelled to sit up and take notice today because of startling statements in a letter from a prominent New York philanthropist to Commissioner General Sargeant of the bureau of immigration at Washington. "Fifty thousand children go to school breakfastless, which means idle fathers," the letter declares. "So overwhelmed is the department of charities with tens of thousands of applications from men out of work that it finds itself unable to cope with the situation. In short, the metropolis this winter is facing a problem with regard to the unemployed such as has never been known in past years. The cause of this state of affairs is of less moment now than the immediate problem of how to deal with the multitudes of the unemployed. Nor has the question here to do with ultimate relief, such as congress can provide by restricting immigration and scattering emigrants.

"The immediate question, then, is: What can be done with the great army of unemployed at once? This question eliminates the unwilling and the unable, whom we always have with us, giving only the able and willing—the honest idle—mostly unskilled labor, of course. How are we to give practical relief to these?"

This is considered another reason for the breaking up of the alien colonies in New York, and every other large city in the country as well.

Tweed's Friend in the Almshouse.

Once prominent in political affairs, wealthy and with friends by the score, John Burrows, who during the reign of "Bill" Tweed was known as Tweed's mason, was today sent to the almshouse on Blackwells island. Burrows is now 78 years old, and without friends. During the Tweed reign Burrows built the additional roof to the old hall of records. He also constructed the Jefferson market police court house, the alterations to Ludlow street jail, the Laura Keene theater, which stood in Broadway, between Bleecker and Houston streets; and erected Tweed's house at Madison avenue and Forty-third street. He also built Tweed's country house in Greenwich, Conn., and the Americus club house in the same place, where Tweed held his conferences with his henchmen.

Great Influx of Russian Jews.

To avoid serving in the Russian army and being sent to the far east, thousands of Russian Hebrews are coming to this country. The arrivals of Russian Hebrews since last July follows: August, 12,869; September, 11,211; October, 9,806; November, 17,244; December, approximately, 23,000. The number is increasing 25 per cent a month. The immigration officers look upon this with alarm, and are using extra precautions to exclude those who are not entitled to land. Deportations are far above the normal average. In the last 10 days 528 immigrants, a large percentage Russian Hebrews, have been ordered back on the ground of being "assisted immigrants." All over Europe Hebrews have organized societies whose express mission is to supply the fleeing Russian Hebrews with a ticket to the United States.

Wanted—Doctors for Panama.

Uncle Sam is starting in with the new year getting a medical staff ready that will be sent to Panama as soon as qualified to take care of the large army of workmen which is to be employed in digging the great canal. The first examination, that for surgeons, will be held on January 18. The age ranges from 25 to 50 years, and a salary of $250 a month, which is considered a very good one by all young doctors wishing to get practice and to be sure of a snug sum every 30 days. The examination is made up as follows: Anatomy, 5 points; surgical bacteriology, 5; surgical pathology and diagnosis, 15; surgical practice, 40; surgical gynecology, 5, and practical experience, 30. So that there will be no possible chance for any applicant working in a substitute on Uncle Sam. He has taken the precaution to have an order issued requiring all candidates on the day of the examination to submit to the examiner a recent photograph of himself not more than three years old, which will be filed with his examination papers and used as a means of identification in case he receives an appointment.

Ballooning to Be Next Fad.

As ballooning is expected to be the popular sport to follow automobiling, the exhibition of a model of Capt. Baldwin's famous airship Arrow at the Madison Square garden automobile show, which opens next Saturday, will be of more than usual interest. The Arrow made successful flights at San Francisco, St. Louis and Los Angeles. On account of the limited space available in the garden, the model will be one-quarter length, but will be true to detail and illustrate fully the simplest, safest and most nearly perfect of the dirigible airships yet turned out. Baldwin does not claim extravagant things for his invention, but believes he has developed a new sport excelling in fascination all present ones. He thinks the coming year will bring forth many airship clubs.

Democrats Need Time to Think.

Cord Meyer, chairman of the Democratic state committee, said today there was nothing in the reports published lately that there would be a meeting and reorganization of the committee soon. "There is no reason for any meeting of the committee this year," Mr. Meyer added. "I have received no request to call a meeting, and expect none. As to a reorganization, I can say I will be chairman of the committee until the next state convention. I have no intention of getting out. This is no time for meetings or reorganization. It is a time for all good Democrats to rest up and muse on the late election. A rest of a year or so will do us all good."

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

We check and take; exult and fret;
Our plans extend, our passions rise.
Till in our ardor we forget
How worthless is the victor's prize.
Soon fades the spell, soon comes the night;
Say, will it not to then the same
Whether we played the black or white,
Whether we lost or won the game?
—Macauley.

Did you hear Gilfillan reeling off poetry grave and gay, and jests funny and witty, in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, last night?

If you didn't you missed something worth while, for he is ever worth hearing, and seeing, too, because he is built different from the prosy sort. He would have to be, else he wouldn't be different.

The outer man is shaped and operated by the other man, the fellow whom we call the inner man.

The outer man is merely a sort of jumping Jack, which the inner man operates by pulling the string causing him to dance, sing, turn flip-flaps and all that sort of thing.

The inner Gilfillan is a good sort of fellow, active, earnest and altogether wholesome, and he makes the outer Gilfillan hop around pretty lively and do a lot of stunts, and be good.

There are but few outer men, of the many we see daily, whose inner men are so versatile and clever as the inner Gilfillan.

* * * * *

As you read the bright, sweet, juicy bits of verse that are knocked off day by day by the newspaper poets, you naturally conclude that thefra is an easy job, so easy that you really envy them. Or maybe it looks too easy, so easy in fact that you wouldn't think it worth your while to bother with it.

Suppose you knock off a few easy ones just to show that you can do it when you try.

The fact of the matter is that you can't do it at all, because your inner man isn't built that way. And if he can do this sort of thing in a pinch you will find that it makes you sweat like a good fellow to lick it into shape.

While it is true that this sort of stuff comes, it does not come without more or less severe travail.

The finer works of art do not show the amount of labor that has been expended upon them. The setting of a tiny gem often requires the labor of days.

So, don't allow yourself to imagine when you read a newspaper gem that it just came ready-made, or that it cost the author nothing more than the mere labor of writing the words.

Just say to all junkheads who question your sense
And hold all your wisdom at naught,
You've been forced to turn knowledge away every night,
And you've standing room only for thought.
—Life.

Suppose we pick out a few that have appeared during the last day or two, as specimens of the daily grind. First is Mr. Gilfillan's last in the Baltimore American, for which paper he writes a piece every day:

("Your people have the well-known southern quality of being easily touched."—Excerpt from Andrew Carnegie's letter.)

O Andy, canaie Andy, with the hemorrhage of cash,
You certainly have busted all our gravity to smash;
At first you filled our hearts with joy till we could scarce contain
The pleasure you had given; and with all our might and main
We lifted up our voices in thanksgiving unto you,
And made our pretty courtesies the best we ever knew.
And now you have excited all our risibilities
By telling Baltimoreans that they are "touched" with ease.
But those who've tried to "touch" us for a varying amount
On various occasions and on many an account
Might differ from you, Andy, in their verdict as to how
Folks "touch" us with facility—these other ones might vow
We were a bunch of "tight-wads," and there might be words and blows
More fierce than ever passed between the "thistle" and the "rose."
But you have demonstrated till the whole world knows it well
That, when it comes to "touching," you're an easy yta yersel'."

We'll pass, some day, from the Winter's frown,
To where the blossoms are raining down,
And the river sings
Of a thousand springs,
And the gray doves fieldward beat their wings.

We'll pass, some day from the snow-white town,
Where the field flowers wait for the bees in brown,
And vales and hills,
And shadowed rills
Echo the song o' the whippoorwills!

Away from the Winter's stormy frown
In depths of woodlands its dreams we'll drown!
From the bitter strife,
Where the world is rife
With song and bloom, and the breath of life!
—Atlanta Constitution.

The goat is an amusing beast,
On circus posters pursed;
His head is the butt end of him—
He travels butt end first.
'Tis true he feedeth on tin cans
And other bric-a-brac,
And wears a bored expression,
And eternally says: "Ba-a!"

When he has quit this world of sin,
Eternally stopped buttin',
We greet him in our dining room—
He comes disguised as mutton;
He has the cutest little tail,
A set of horns, also;
They're each at different ends of him—
At the butt ends, you know.

I would not care to meet a goat
Abu pat it on the head;
I hate trained nurses all the while
Tiptoeing round my bed;
My father and my mother, too—
It worries them like sin;
A goat's the impolitest beast—
He's always butting in.
—Houston Post.

If nobody noticed the things we do,
If nobody judged men at all
By the honors, the triumphs that are for the few,
Or the shame of the many who fall—
If to win and to lose were the same
In the eyes of the world, would we try
As each does today,
To get up in some way
To the goal that is distant and high?

We tell one another we care not a straw
What people may think, and we say
Unto men that it isn't for fear of the law
That we keep from the dangerous way!
Sweet virtue demands no reward,
But if it were not for the cries
Of "hurrah" for the man
Who is seen in the van
How many would struggle to rise?
—S. E. Kiser.

One's social life would soon be done
Without the white lie compliment;
All of us would severely shun
A man with honesty unbent.
Suppose, instead of "lovely time,"
Some guest who, worn and weary, lingers,
Should say: "With deep disgust I squirm—
I've simply sat and twirled my fingers"

But that's the truth, the terrible truth;
The host would be tempted to fight one—
'Twere better to try the effect of a lie—
Say a harmless and happy wee white one.

The author who gives us his book
Would hold us evermore despised
If we should innocently look
And murmur: "This is plagiarized."
The artist who thinks he can paint
Would never more ask us to visit
His studio, if like a saint,
We should inquire: "That's nice; what is it?"

This is the truth, the terrible truth—
Unless you are callow and youthful
You'll smile and you'll sigh and you'll speak the white lie
For the troubles arise if you're truthful.
—W. D. Nesbit.

The Nation's Capital

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—No man has taken a keener interest in the prosecution of the Smoot case before the senate committee on privileges and elections than Senator Fred T. Dubois of Idaho. On April 20, 1904, he caused to be passed by the senate the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the postmaster general be and he is hereby directed to ascertain, as far as possible and report to the senate what, if any, postmasters in Idaho, are living in polygamy."

Pursuant to this resolution Inspector M. C. Fowler has made a very instructive and interesting report which has been sent to the senate and printed as a public document. He reviews the history of the Mormon church from its foundation down to the present and his remarks are a distinctly valuable addition to the literature extant upon this subject. He points out that the manifesto of 1890, issued by President Woodruff, while it prohibits polygamy or plural marriages, yet it is not construed as a renunciation of any part of the Mormon faith. He says:

Gives Details of the Organization.

"The manifesto did not affect or impair the validity as an article of faith of the 'principle' of plural marriages. It continues in full force in a doctrinal and ideal sense, as part of the Mormon creed derived from Joseph Smith. The Woodruff manifesto of September 26, 1890, simply reduced polygamy to a nation prohibition under church laws. The language of the manifesto itself shows that it was a concession to the pressure of the civil law, ultimately and unquestionably determined."

The inspector tells in detail of the organization of the church, the unit of that organization being the ward, which corresponds to the parish or congregation in the Christian church. There are 35 organized "stakes of Zion," including 2 in Canada and 7 in Mexico with 62 wards. This means 35 presidents of stakes and 186 counselors to those presidents and 622 bishops with 1,244 counselors, a total of 2,001. The state of Utah has 35 stakes, Idaho comes next with 9½ stakes and 128 wards.

It is established by Inspector Fowler in his report that it is utterly impossible to prove polygamy in a large majority of the cases, if it is the wish of those concerned to conceal it. In some cases it is comparatively easy to trace the circumstances up to the outside of the endowment house, and there the clue is lost, for into these sacred precincts no Gentile may enter, and its secrets are safe from the ears or eyes of disbelievers. But he found that where Mormons were still living with plural wives which they took before the manifesto of 1890, there was little difficulty in establishing the facts, as the husbands and wives had no desire to conceal them. Mr. Fowler acknowledges that the success of his efforts in ascertaining the Idaho postmasters who were living in polygamy was due in a large measure to Mormons themselves. On this point he says:

Mormons Gave Him Information.

"I was personally unfamiliar with the conditions in Idaho and sought to feel my way cautiously in entering upon the investigation, especially as it appeared that the so-called Mormon question had been for some time a subject of public agitation and debate in that state. I placed myself in touch with leading postmasters and quietly conferred with county officers and other reliable citizens of wide personal acquaintance in the various counties. By advice and from personal preconceptions I at first avoided Mormons in my inquiries on the theory that they might be sensitive on the subject and indisposed to furnish information. As I found my local bearings, however, by degrees, this reserve was discovered to be unnecessary, and I consulted freely with such church officers as bishops and presidents of stakes. When it was understood by them to be a bona fide and necessary official inquiry, a question of simple fact, the leading Mormons were found ready and reliable informants, and in many instances they seemed complimented by the confidence in them which the consultation implied."

In that section of Idaho known as the "Mormon counties" there are 235 postoffices, and after making a thorough investigation, covering several months, Inspector Fowler found four cases where postmasters were polygamists. In all of them the facts were established by the admission of the postmasters. Gottfried Eschler is the postmaster at Raymond, Bear Lake county. The emolumments of the office for the preceding year amounted to but $48.38. The inspector's report in this case says:

Postmaster Living With Two Wives.

"This small postoffice, which I visited November 11, is situated in a bleak mountain valley on the border of Wyoming. When I made my errand known to Mr. Eschler he promptly and frankly stated he is living with two wives—Rosa Kunz, married May 2, 1886, and Rose Kunzler, married in 1895 or 1896. The first wife resides at the postoffice; the second on a ranch about a mile distant, where Mr. Eschler happened to be at work when I called at the office. He is 44 years of age, born in Switzerland in 1860, and one of the youngest polygamists found during the investigation. I did not ask Postmaster Eschler to make to writing what would be a criminating statement under the laws of Idaho in reference to his polygamous status. There will be no dispute concerning the facts set forth in regard to this or the succeeding cases."

Vernon, Fremont county, is another of these small offices, the postmaster here reaping but $37.35 per annum as the rewards of the office. The report on this says:

"I visited the office November 15. The postmaster, Anne C. Liljenquist, age 50, is the third (second plural) wife of Ole N. Liljenquist, a 'patriarch' of the church, who resides at Hyrum, Cache county, Utah, nearly 200 miles from Vernon, Idaho, with his second wife, Rena. The first wife is dead. The postmaster left Hyrum about seven years ago with her two sons, Ezra L., aged 23, and Victor Emmanuel, age 21, and located on a homestead farm in Idaho. They are evidently hard working people.

Husband Pays Her Visits.

"Patriarch Liljenquist, the husband and father, is 80 years of age. He travels about considerably, bestowing blessings in his patriarchal capacity, and on these journeys he pays the postmaster occasional visits of a week or more. He last visited her at Christmas last year staying about a week. Their youngest child, deceased, was born 19 years ago. Mrs. Liljenquist told this in a simple, candid manner. Patriarch Liljenquist and herself regard each other as husband and wife, she said, She honors and respects him."

Treasureton, Bannock county, belies its name from the standpoint of the postmaster, who gets only $38.80 for serving the government. But its postmaster is a polygamist, the inspector's report reading as follows:

"In a personal interview the postmaster, Benjamin Hymas, readily admitted to me that he is a polygamist, but was inclined to be reserved as to details. He stated that he married two sisters, Hannah and Eliza Thurston. Both marriages occurred in the temple at Logan, Utah, the last about 1890. Two or twelve years ago he removed from the vicinity of Logan to his present neighborhood in Idaho. His wife, Hannah, came with him. The second wife, Eliza, remained at Hyde Park, Utah, where she still resides and where Mr. Hymas visits her occasionally. They consider themselves husband and wife. Their youngest child is a boy about five years old.

Standing Good in Community.

"The distance from Treasureton, Idaho, to Hyde Park, Utah, is about 40 miles. Mr. Hymas appears to be 55, possibly 60 years of age. His general standing is good in the community. He stated he was not aware there were objections to a polygamist being postmaster."

Elba, Cassia county, is a star route office, of which the reports say:

"The postmaster at this star route office is Edmund Hoover, about 70 years of age, appointed January 1, 1886. He has a plural wife, Melissa Greene, married in 1890. Their youngest child is 22. They have roamed apart mostly for many years, but continue to recognize each other as husband and wife. The plural wife lived at Oakley, Cassia county, a number of years, and Mr. Hoover visited her there. Several years ago she moved to Fremont county with her children, 130 miles from Elba. Mr. Hoover visited her there and she has visited him in Cassia county. They last met in May, 1903."

No action has yet been taken upon this report, but it is likely that from this time forward when a postmaster is to be appointed in Idaho or any of the other western states where the Mormons are strong to murder the matrimonial records of the candidates will undergo a searching scrutiny.

CITY HALL CROWD IS BADLY STUMPED

North Side Administration Leaders Are Uncertain About Fighting Republican Party.

WYMAN WOULD HAVE REVENGE

Confusion reigns in the Wyman political camp in Allegheny, and the mayor's hope of controlling both branches of councils after the spring election seems small. When the Republican ward committees threw down the bars and opened the primaries to all who wished to become candidates, it had the effect of a bomb dropped unexpectedly into a peaceful assemblage. The prospect of making a fight outside the Republican party seemed not at all to the liking of a large number of prospective candidates who got into councils on the political landslide two years ago, and when the opportunity offered they flocked back into the organization like prodigal sons hurrying to the old homestead.

That such a thing was entirely unthought of by Wyman is shown by the fact that last Saturday morning he and Councilman William A. Ford had a tilt in the mayor's office. Ford, with William E. Kimberlin and Samuel McElroy, took part in the Republican suggestion meeting on Friday night against the orders of the mayor. Their names were suggested and they will be candidates in the Republican primary. Indications of similar recreancy in other wards alarmed the administration leaders, and at present the latter seem to be without definite plans for the coming fight. It is reported that Wyman declares the payroll will fight against the three Second ward candidates who have defied him, and that with the opposition there is already in the Republican party, the trio will be defeated. Certain large corporations with which Kimberlin and McElroy are connected, are credited with compelling them to leave Wyman to make his own fight and to get into the Republican party when they had the chance.

This peculiar state of affairs is being watched with deep interest in Allegheny. Director Scandrett attended the Republican suggestion meeting in the Third ward school house Monday night. He had with him a large crowd of the payroll that cheered lustily when the names of administration councilmen were suggested. Just what the administration intends to do, since the hope of running an independent ticket has been dashed on the rocks of the open primary, is unknown, and the question is one that is causing a lot of speculation.

However, there is some foundation for the belief that there is to be an independent ticket, at least in some wards. The administration has picked Richard Armstrong to oppose Enoch James, the Republican candidate for select council in the Fifteenth ward. Armstrong did not allow his name to go before the Republicans at their suggestion meeting Monday night. His battle is to be made and financed by the city hall crowd. In the Fifth ward there is a report that the administration will assist Dr. H. E. Campbell in his fight for nomination for select council. Dr. Campbell and Thomas McBride are the candidates on the Republican ticket. Wyman has no use for McBride, and the police are working quietly in the ward in the interests of Dr. Campbell.

WILL UNVEIL TABLETS TO HONOR LATE PASTORS

First United Presbyterian Church to Respect Memory of Clergymen Who Served It Long.

In memory of two pastors, each of whom served the congregation 40 years, two bronze tablets will be unveiled next Sunday morning in the First United Presbyterian church, Fifth avenue and Bouquet street, with fitting ceremonies.

One is in memory of the Rev. Dr. Robert Bruce, who was pastor of the Associate church of Pittsburgh for 40 years, the congregation later taking the name of the First United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. Dr. Bruce was also president of the Western university of Pennsylvania for 23 years.

The second tablet is in memory of the Rev. William J. Reid, D. D., LL.D., who for over 40 years was pastor of the church, for 27 years principal clerk of the general assembly and for 15 years editor of the United Presbyterian. On this tablet is also inscribed the name of Mrs. Mary Bowen Reid, who was active in the work of the church, the denomination and in missionary efforts. The present pastor of the congregation, the Rev. William J. Reid, Jr., is a son of Dr. Reid.

Special preparations have been made to observe the occasion. Mrs. E. M. Hill, who succeeded Mrs. Reid as foreign secretary of the Women's board, will speak about the work of Mrs. Reid. Dr. Charles A. Dickey, LL.D., president of the Presbyterian hospital of Philadelphia, and a former moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, who was a classmate and an intimate friend of Dr. Reed, will make the unveiling address.

TO PREVENT CONTAGION.

Allegheny Medical Society Will Enlist Aid of the State Bureau of Health.

A radical move for the prevention of the spread of contagious diseases is proposed by the Allegheny County Medical society, and although it is thought that to carry it out state legislation may be required, the society will place the matter before the bureau of health and seek to have the bureau do what it can to have the society's proposal enforced.

The resolution was presented at yesterday's meeting by Dr. C. C. Hersman. It reads that it is the sense of the society that all landlords or agents be required to disinfect houses in which infectious diseases have occurred, or to give a certificate to new tenants, stating either that there has been no infectious disease in the house or that it has been thoroughly disinfected under bacteriological test.

The following officers were elected for the year: President, Edward B. Heckel; first vice president, W. W. Jones; second vice president, Elmer V. Wible; recording secretary, Walter F. Donaldson; corresponding secretary, William H. Cameron; treasurer, W. B. Ewing; censors, Theodore J. Ellerich and T. M. McKennan; delegates to the state society, J. C. Dunn, E. B. Borland, J. C. Lange, Thomas G. Simonton, Ferd Koeller and J. B. Blackburn.

LOCOMOTIVE'S QUEER FREAK.

Steam Dome Blows Off and Wrecks a House Many Yards Distant.

The steam dome of an engine on the Allegheny Valley railroad was blown off yesterday morning as the engine was standing in the yards at Twenty-eighth street. The flying dome wrecked a house and narrowly missed crushing a child of George Conway.

When the steam dome blew off it sailed into the air and then started toward the Allegheny river, traveling over 100 yards, when it alighted on the roof of the Conway home. It tore through the roof, just missed striking the child, and imbedded itself in the second floor. The house was badly wrecked. Neither the engineer nor fireman was hurt.

Lionel Barrymore in "The Other Girl."

For the engagement of Charles Frohman's production of Augustus Thomas' latest comedy, "The Other Girl," at the Nixon theater next week, Mr. Frohman sends here his original New York company, which served to make so great a success of the play last year in New York, with the brilliant young actor, Lionel Barrymore at its head. In the personnel such distinguished names appear as Mabel Roebuck (last year leading woman with William Faversham), Richard Bennet, Doris Keane, Wallace Eddinger, Grace Henderson, Francis Byrne, Maggie Fielding, Frank Burbeck, Ella Ray and Ralph Delmore.

MARTIN'S FRIENDS WAIT FOR VERNER

Bigelow Is Bitterly Opposed to the Reinstatement of Former City Clerk.

WILL TAKE SECOND PLACE

Redoubled efforts were made in behalf of Edward J. Martin's candidacy for city clerk yesterday and Messrs. Wainwright and Upperman of select council claim to have a promise from the administration leaders that no steps to elect a successor to the late E. W. Hassler will be taken until the return of Murry A. Verner, who is expected in the city tomorrow. Then a conference of the leaders, including Verner, will be held, and Wainwright and Upperman will urge their claims for Martin.

It is stated that Martin is willing to take the assistant city clerkship if he cannot obtain the first position, as the salaries of both places are the same. Martin is very active, entering the contest immediately upon hearing of Clerk Hassler's death. Other aspirants were equally busy, but with less chance of success.

Director Bigelow is bitterly opposed to Martin and told a councilman yesterday that he would not consent to Martin entering the city clerk's office in any capacity. Director Bigelow was not at the city hall yesterday afternoon and could not be located by the sub-committee on appropriations before which he was to appear. It was reported that he had left on the noon train for the east to see President Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad and to meet Verner before the latter reached Pittsburgh. It was stated at Director Bigelow's residence last night that he was at home, but had retired for the night.

A prominent member of councils is authority for the story that just previous to the death of Thomas S. Bigelow a scheme was laid by several select councilmen to induce the administration to create a vacancy in the city clerkship and to fill it by electing Martin. It is stated that Verner agreed to the plan, but it was nipped in the bud by T. S. Bigelow. At critical times in big fights in councils since then Martin is said to have obtained votes for the administration among his select councilmen friends upon the assurance that he was to be placed in his old position at the first opportunity.

PROPOSE GUILD OF HEALTH.

Episcopalian Society of Divine Healing May Be Established Here.

A branch of the Guild of Health for Divine Healing, which has been established in Great Britain by the Church of England, will be organized here if the plans of Henry Holden Colpus carry. He organized the guild in England.

It is proposed to start branches in connection with Episcopalian churches throughout the country and affiliate all into an international society. Mr. Colpus states that President Roosevelt and Gov. Pennypacker are interested in the plan.

M'KEESPORT WILL REJOICE OVER PAYMENT OF BONDS

City Controller Soles of McKeesport is planning a big celebration to commemorate the payment of the city's bonded indebtedness to the Baltimore & Ohio company, which will take place in a few months. In order to get the railroad company to construct their lines through the town the borough council bonded the taxpayers to the extent of $104,000, which has been running at the rate of 6 per cent interest for the last 30 years. The total cost to the municipality will be $292,880.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF EDGAR W. HASSLER

Services Conducted by Pastor and Choir of Fourth Avenue Baptist Church.

Many personal friends of the deceased, a number of city officials and councilmen and a good representation of newspaper men attended the funeral of City Clerk Edgar W. Hassler at 1115 Bluff street last evening. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge, pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. The parlors and halls and upper rooms were crowded with mourners.

On a couch in the front parlor, with an extremely life-like appearance, lay the remains. The floral emblems were numerous and elaborate. There were special pieces from the Pittsburgh councils, the Press club and city clerks. The services began with the singing of "Rock of Ages" by the quartet of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, of which Norman C. Hassler, a brother of the deceased is the leader. After scripture reading and prayer by Dr. Partridge, the quartet sang "There is Rest for You."

Dr. Partridge made a brief address, touching on the dramatic suddenness of the death of Mr. Hassler, in the midst of the most important of his life labors and of his talents and character as student, public official and citizen. At the conclusion of the minister's address the quartet sang "Nearer My God to Thee," and the services were ended with a short prayer.

The friends of the deceased and family were then permitted to view the remains. This evening at 5 o'clock the remains of Mr. Hassler will be taken to Fairmont, W. Va., the former home of the Mrs. Hassler, where the interment will take place tomorrow.

PRIDE OF NAVY IS TRANSFERRED

Armored Cruiser Colorado Is Formally Turned Over to the Government.

READY FOR FIGHTING DUTY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 10.

The armored cruiser Colorado is now in the hands of the government and the Cramp company, which built her, have a receipt as simple as for a pair of shoes to show that about the greatest ocean fighting and speed machine yet devised has passed from their care to that of Uncle Sam.

On Monday the pennant of Capt. Duncan Kennedy will go aloft at the mizzen fighting top. Then the ship will be really in the service, for her crew and officers will be aboard, and will hear the address of the secretary of the navy read.

The huge cruiser left the shipyard for League Island at 1:20 o'clock this afternoon. The naval men came to see how the great cruiser would act and they saw. The ship handled as easily as a tug boat, the first twitch of her wheel bringing her answer with a graceful curve.

Then nothing remained except the formal transfer of the ship to Rear Admiral Dickinson and the taking of the receipt, except congratulations for the builders on the beauty of the vessel.

MANUFACTURERS BANQUET.

Members of the Pittsburgh Association Hold Their Annual Dinner and Discuss Labor Problem.

I. W. Frank, president of the United Engineering and Foundry Company, spoke on "The Labor Bureau of the Association," describing the workings and benefits of the bureau during the past year.

W. P. Eagan, commissioner of the National Metal Trades' association, spoke on the general subject of organization to oppose the demands of labor unions. He declared that such organizations were imperative and asked the support of all manufacturers in preventing the threatened supremacy of the union over the employer.

BOLES' GRATEFUL HUNTER SENT SIX WILD TURKEYS

One Blast on Captain's Whistle Rescued Tennesseean From a Bear—Reward Eaten Last Night.

Six wild turkeys that erstwhile roosted in the trees of old Tennessee, evading for a long time the trusty rifles of the state's backwoodsmen, graced in juicy succulence a long table in Hammel's cafe last night, while around them were grouped Capt. "Bob" Boles and Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., and 20 of their bosom friends. The turkeys were spicy with the persimmons, pine mast, acorns, chinquapins and chestnuts on which they had fed in the primeval forest.

The six gobblers were a gift from a Tennessee hunter to Capt. Boles, for a year ago Capt. Boles, who is a steamboat pilot, saved the man's life with the mere blast of a steamboat whistle. This man was in Kentucky on the banks of the Ohio, hunting one day, and as Capt. Boles' steamboat went by the captain saw the man taking aim at a deer bounding through the woods, oblivious to a bear which was creeping up behind him. Just as the bear was about to embrace the hunter Capt. Boles blew a blast on the whistle that scared bruin. The bear turned to run, and the hunter, hearing him, killed him. The man was very grateful, and on his return home to Tennessee he shot the turkeys and sent them to Capt. Boles. Boles invited his friends to eat the turkeys and Wainwright insisted on furnishing the bottled sauce to digest the meat.

William F. Hammel was the toastmaster, and among those who spoke were Capt. Boles, Wainwright, J. W. Ruhlandt, T. O. Atkinson, P. A. Manion, Charles Lauer and Mayor Henry K. Bentley of Monongahela.

FAVORS GUARDIAN FOR MISS SPANG

Court's Ruling Will Release Her, but With This Proviso, It Is Said.

E. V. BREWSTER HER COUNSEL

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.

Judge Marean, of the supreme court, Brooklyn, has about finished his private hearing in the case of Miss Mabel Spang. It is expected the court tomorrow will render a decision in her favor. It is said on good authority Judge Marean will order Miss Spang to be released from the custody of the sanitarium officials, and to be placed in charge of a responsible guardian, who shall be appointed by the court, and shall make regular reports regarding the condition of his ward.

During the examination of Miss Grace Stedman, who used to be Miss Spang's teacher, it is reported she said Miss Spang once became engaged to a young man with whom she had been acquainted only a day.

Miss Stedman, it is alleged, also said that while Miss Spang was her pupil they communicated by a secret code. The exhibition in court convinced Judge Marean it is said, of Miss Spang's intellectual ability. Eugene Brewster appeared as counsel for the young woman today, she having secured him. Miss Spang became dissatisfied with the way in which Leo Bamberger, the attorney appointed by the court to defend her, was conducting her case.

Norman Spang, uncle of the girl, was present at today's hearing. It is Mr. Brewster's intention to dispute the validity of the commitment papers upon which Miss Spang was adjudged insane and sent to the asylum, he contending in court they had been secured on hearsay evidence only.

A Dollar's Worth Free To Any Rheumatic Sufferer

I ask no deposit—no reference—no security. There is nothing to risk—nothing to promise—nothing to pay, either now or later. Any Rheumatic sufferer who does not know my remedy may have a full dollar's worth free to try.

I willingly make this liberal offer because I know that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy may be relied upon ALWAYS to bring the utmost relief that medicine can. Years before I discovered this remedy, I studied the nature of Rheumatism. For Rheumatism is really Crystallized Poison!

Your blood is always full of poison—the poison you eat and drink and breathe into your system. It is the purpose of the blood to absorb and carry off this very poison. And the kidneys, which are the blood filters, are expected to cleanse the blood and send it back through the system clean, to gather more poison which, they, in turn, will eliminate.

But sometimes the kidneys fail. And sometimes, from some other cause the blood gets so full of poison that they cannot absorb it all. This is the start of Rheumatism. The poison accumulates and crystallizes. The crystals look like little grains of sugar or of fine white sand. The blood carries them and they increase in size. Then, when it can carry them no longer, it deposits them in a joint—on a bone—anywhere.

The twinge in your leg—the dull ache in your arm on a rainy day—these are the outward signs of the unseen crystals. And the twisted limbs and unspeakable anguish of the sufferer who has allowed his symptoms to go unheeded and unattended for years—these are the evidences of what Rheumatism neglected can do.

Rheumatism includes lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, gout—for all these are the results of rheumatic poison in the blood.

Plainly, the first thing to do is to remove the poison. But this is not enough. The formation of the poison must be stopped, so that nature may have a chance to dissolve and eliminate the crystals which have already formed. Unless this is done there can be no cure—no permanent relief.

I searched the whole earth for a specific for Rheumatism—something that I or any physician could feel safe in prescribing—something that we could count on not only occasionally, but always. For the ravages of Rheumatism are everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

I spent twenty years in experimenting before I felt satisfied that I had a certain remedy for this dread disease—a remedy which would not only clean out the poison, but one which would stop its formation.

Certain Relief

The secret lay in a wonderful chemical I found in Germany. When I found this chemical, I knew that I could make a Rheumatic cure that would be practically certain. But even then, before I made an announcement—before I was willing to put my name on it—I made more than 2,000 tests! And my failures were but two per cent.

This German chemical is not the only ingredient I use in Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure—but it made the remedy possible—made possible an achievement which, I doubt not, could have been made in no other way.

This chemical was very expensive. The duty, too, was high. In all it cost me $4.80 per pound. But what is $4.80 per pound for a real remedy for the world's most painful disease?—for a real relief from the greatest torture human beings know?

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again—that is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling and then that is the end of the pain and swelling—the end of the suffering—the end of Rheumatism. That is why I can afford to make this liberal offer—that is why I can afford to spend the FIRST dollar that Rheumatic sufferers, the world over, may learn of my remedy.

Simply Write Me

The offer is open to everyone, everywhere, who has not tried my remedy. But you must write ME for the free dollar package order. I will send you an order on your druggist which he will accept as gladly as he would accept a dollar. He will hand you from his shelves a standard sized package and he will send the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements. All that I ask you to do is to write—write today. I will send you my book on Rheumatism besides. It is free. It will help you to understand your case. QUORUM FAILED OF APPEARANCE

Board of Inquiry in Bishop Talbot Case Postpones Session Until Friday.

ISSUE MAY NEVER BE TRIED

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

READING, PA., Jan. 10.—The much-heralded gathering of the board appointed by Bishop Tuttle to meet here today and inquire into the presentment made against Bishop Ethelbert Talbot of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania, was without definite result. As a matter of fact, there was no meeting, for there were only seven members in the city, whereas under the constitution nine are required to constitute a quorum. Adjournment was accordingly taken until next Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

But while there was no formal session of the board there was a very lengthy conference of the members who had responded to the call of the chairman, Rev. Dr. W. B. Bodine of Philadelphia, beginning soon after 10 o'clock and lasting until nearly noon. Those at the conference were the Rev. Dr. W. B. Bodine of Philadelphia, chairman of the board; the Rev. Dr. John E. Hardin of Frankford; the Rev. Dr. Joseph Carey of Saratoga, from the Albany diocese, and the Rev. Dr. Henry L. Jones of Wilkesbarre; the Rev. Dr. Rogers Israel of Scranton; William B. Butler of Manch Chunk, and J. M. Lamberton of Harrisburg, all of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania. Not one of the New York members of the board put in an appearance.

Something of a surprise was occasioned by the appearance of J. Frederick Jenkinson of Philadelphia, at the hotel just before the conference began. Mr. Jenkinson was one of the signers of the original presentment, and together with Herbert Noble of New York, acted as counsel for the presentors. He said he had come up to see just what the board would do and to be on hand in case any of the members wished to ask him any questions.

"Personally," said Mr. Jenkinson, "I will be very much surprised if the board should order Bishop Talbot tried. In my opinion this is the last that will be heard of the Talbot-Irvine controversy."

William B. Butler of Mauch Chunk, Pa., a lay member of the board, who was elected secretary, said that notwithstanding the Huntingdon signers had repudiated the charges and that the other signers had asked Bishop Tuttle to permit them to withdraw the accusations, the charges stand as prominently as ever before the members of the board and neither repudiations nor withdrawals could avail while the reputation of a bishop is assailed.

Mr. Butler is also authority for the statement that Bishop Tuttle has refused to acquiesce in the request of the majority of the presentors for the withdrawal of the charges. "The charges once having been made and signed," he said, "are no longer the property of the presentors, but are now the property of the church and they have nothing to do but let the matter take its own course."

PITTSBURGH COMPOSER RECEIVED A TRIUMPH

Stahlberg's New Tone Poem Is Praised by Music Lovers at Art Society Reception.

Pittsburgh music lovers last night, at the Carnegie music hall, paid homage to a local composer. It was the first performance of the symphonic poem, "Across the Wide Sea," by Fritz Stahlberg of the Pittsburgh orchestra. The 311th reception of the Art society was made memorable by the presentation of this new composition, which was made doubly conspicuous by the compliment tendered by Emil Paur, who asked the composer to direct the orchestra during the performance. It was one of the largest gatherings the Art society has held and there was praise on every hand for the work of Mr. Stahlberg.

With the director's baton in his hand Mr. Stahlberg appears just as self-possessed as with his wonted bow. He felt the whole sweet story the instruments told. None of the sublimity of the epic in tone escaped him, and with his demonstrative manner of leading, his audience was held in sway with the rhythm of the story. Carping critics would say that Mr. Stahlberg is at times too demonstrative and that he struggles where he should enjoy the majestic sweep of the music. But it must be remembered that last night was a first performance and that Mr. Stahlberg is a new conductor.

"Across the Wide Sea" has a merry theme. Its sober moments are in its anticipation of the terrors of the deep and its fathomless mystery. The sonorous knell of the ship's bell and the call of the watch bring a multitude of memories to him who sails "Across the Wide Sea," and these are expressed by English horns and clarinets.

Miss Gertrude Clark was the soloist last night and was heard in an aria from the opera "Herodiede," by Massenet. The concert opened with the overture from "Die Meistersinger." Aside from Stahlberg's composition the rondo for wind instruments in E flat and three movements from "The Damnation of Faust" provided a veritable treat for the large audience.

COLD WAVE INTERRUPTED BY NEW DISTURBANCE

Changed Conditions in the Southwest Prevents Zero Weather Reaching This Section of the Country.

The severe cold wave which was scheduled to arrive in this section last night, has been partly side-tracked, owing to the influence of a disturbance which has sprung up in the southwest. While the cold weather will continue, the weather man last night stated that Pittsburgh and vicinity will not experience the severe cold which was hurrying eastward yesterday morning. The prediction is for more snow and cold today and a temperature during the night of 10 to 15 degrees above zero.

When the reports were received at the office of the local weather bureau yesterday morning, Forecaster Frank Ridgway sent out warning to local interests which would be effected by zero weather, as the indications were that zero weather would prevail in this section before daylight today. There was a rapid fall in the local temperature after the warnings were issued, the mercury having fallen from 33 degrees at 4 a. m. to 11 degrees at 10 a. m. After the latter hour the atmosphere began to grow warmer slowly and by 8 o'clock last night the temperature in this section registered 22 degrees.

After all the weather reports were received the weather map showed that the cold wave covered the lake regions, central valleys and the northwest last night. The influence of the disturbance in the southwest caused snow last night from the Rocky mountains to the Ohio valley and rains in the west Gulf states. Mr. Ridgway said that if increasing cloudiness had not set in last night the local temperature would have fallen to zero or lower. In the extreme northwest the temperature was from zero to 12 below. New Orleans had 64 above and was the warmest place in the country. The weather map at 8 p. m. showed an absolute range of 76 degrees.

Cockrell Will Accept the Place.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Cockrell of Missouri, has decided to accept the position on the Interstate commerce commission offered him by President Roosevelt. The president will likely reappoint Commissioner James D. Yeomans to serve until March 4, so Mr. Cockrell can finish his senate term.

Robinson and Tayler Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The senate today confirmed the following nominations: John B. Robinson, marshal for the Eastern district of Pennsylvania; Robert W. Tayler, district judge Northern district of Ohio.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simuple, but Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the hearth and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. R. S. Workman, Chicago, Ills., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrance of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, this producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of the stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I can not find appropriate words to express my good feeling. I have found flesh, appetite and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

SUFFERED FROM CATARRAH OF LUNGS SO COMMON IN WINTER.
CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

A COLD ON THE LUNGS THREATENS TO BECOME SERIOUS.

Pe-ru-na Brings Speedy Relief.

Mrs. H. E. Adams, Ex-President Palmetto Club of New Orleans, La., writes from 110 Garfield Court, South Bend, Ind., as follows:

"I am pleased to indorse Peruna, as I took it about 2 year ago and it soon brought me relief from a cold on my lungs which threatened to be serious.

"The lungs were sore and inflamed. I coughed a couple of hours every night, and I felt that something must be done before my lungs became affected.

"Peruna was suggested by some of my friends who had used it, and acting upon their advice I tried it and found that it was able to bring about a speedy cure. You have my highest indorsement and thanks for the good it did me."

Sounding the Praises of Peruna.

Mrs. Frances Wilson, 32 Nelson St., Clinton, Mass., writes:

"Had you seen me at the time of my illness and now, you would not wonder that I take delight in sounding the praises of Peruna.

"My ailment was a severe cold which attacked the bronchial tubes and lungs.

"I followed your special directions and after using six bottles of Peruna, I was on my feet again. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."

KEEP PERUNA IN THE HOUSE.

A PLAIN TALK

On a Plain Subject in Plain Language.

The coming winter will cause at least one-half of the women to have catarrh, colds, coughs, pneumonia or consumption. Thousands of women will lose their lives and tens of thousands will acquire some chronic ailment from which they will never recover.

Unless you take the necessary precautions, the chances are that you (who read this) will be one of the unfortunate ones. Little or no risk need be run if Peruna is kept in the house and at the first appearance of any symptom of catarrh taken as directed on the bottle.

Peruna is a safeguard, a preventive, a specific, a cure for all cases of catarrh, acute and chronic, coughs, colds, consumption, etc.

For free medical advice, address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

VOLUME ON WAR IS WORTH $1,000

Peace Society Offers That Sum for the Right Kind of Novel.

MR. ROOSEVELT IS INTERESTED

One thousand dollars is offered to the literary light who will write a volume on the horrors of war. It need not be very long, but should not be quite so terse as Gen. Sherman's famous summing-up of the same subject. The book, it is hoped, will do for war what "Uncle Tom's Cabin" did for slavery and "Black Beauty" for the cause of kindness to animals. The offer is embodied in a resolution passed yesterday afternoon by the Pittsburgh Peace society at its first regular meeting in the chamber of commerce rooms in The Gazette building.

The Rev. Dr. J. Leonard Levy offered the resolution to give $1,000 to the author who would write the best volume on the "Peace Question," handle the subject so as to arouse public interest to the awful and terrible ravages of war. The thing aimed at is an absorbing novel. Dr. Levy will give the money.

The society organized by electing Dr. Levy president, Dr. S. B. McCormick vice president, the Rev. S. Edward Young secretary, A. Lippman treasurer, and Dr. W. J. Holland, John A. Brashear, Alex. Dempster, Benjamin Thaw, George H. Anderson, I. W. Frank and Judge John M. Kennedy members of the executive committee. The president, vice president and secretary will also serve on the committee, they being members ex officio. Five will constitute a quorum.

Dr. Levy said he had discussed the peace question with President Roosevelt, and while the latter felt compelled to decline membership because of his official position, he was much in sympathy with the society and its purpose. He had communicated with Andrew Carnegie, and Senators P. C. Knox and Boies Penrose, all of whom are interested in the movement.

Notable Honorary Members.

On his motion Mr. Carnegie was elected honorary president, and Gov. Pennypacker and Senators Knox and Penrose, honorary vice presidents.

George H. Anderson, vice president of the chamber of commerce, the Rev. S. Edward Young and Dr. Levy were appointed a committee to determine the advisability of holding a public meeting to ascertain the general sentiment on the arbitration treaties submitted to the senate by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hay.

Dr. Levy expects to go to Washington next week to confer with Senator Knox and the latter may be secured to address a public meeting to be held in this city.

Mr. Young related an incident, without giving names, which virtually marks the first victory for the local society. He said that on Thursday before Christmas he was sought out by some labor leaders and asked if he would aid in the settlement of a dispute effecting an industrial concern and its 1,000 employes. It was stated that the firm had refused to sign the wage scale and the men were ordered out for a strike January 1. Meanwhile, one of the superior court judges was procured to represent the company. Dr. Young and the judge were to select a third arbitrator and a settlement would be attempted.

While this was on, Dr. Young said, "the Peace society began to look important and the trouble was averted by the signing of the scale."

Many Contributions Made.

Contributions from the following persons were noted during the meeting, and all, excepting those previously made members, were elected to membership. Isaac Guckenheimer, Jacob Kaufmann, Morris Falk and Isaac Kaufmann. These four were made life members and the amounts were not announced because the sum is open above a certain amount and, again, there may be additions to the figures in view. Dr. J. Leonard Levy, $50; Hugo Sternberg, A. Leo Weil, $25 each; A. Lippman, S. L. Fleishman, A. J. Sunstein, C. Sunstein, J. Weil, I. W. Frank, $10 each; Raymond Kaufmann, A. M. Hast, L. J. Affelder, J. Baer, M. Feuchtwanger, Lawrence Frank, Meyer Joseph, L. L. Aaron, Rev. S. Edward Young, ex-Judge Josiah Cohen, Dr. S. B. McCormick, $5 each; L. Reizenstein, Mrs. B. Rosenthal, Albert Sidenberg, M. M. Levy, N. Miller, R. Callomon, $1 each.

D. H. Free, 345 Ridge avenue, Canonsburg, Prof. Rynearson, Prof. Brenon, Alexander Dempster, Benjamin Thaw and George H. Anderson were all elected to membership. In the case of the last six the amounts of the contributions have not been determined.

CONGREGATIONAL SONG IS SECURING ITS VOTARIES

Gratifying Response to the Pulpit Invitation to Call at Epiphany School.

Lyceum Night Classes in Operation.

Prof. Joseph Otten of St. Paul's cathedral choir, spent last evening coaching a class of singers, who, he hopes, may be instrumental in helping to introduce the congregational singing desired by Pope Pius X. In his encyclical reforming music in the Catholic church the pope recommended the old custom of congregational singing.

A general invitation to persons who had some training in singing to call at the Epiphany parish school, was issued from the pulpit on Sunday, and as a result there was a large gathering at the school house in Washington street last night. It is the intention to train the singers in the rendition of the simpler responses and in the antiphonal singing of the vesper psalms, the choir to sing one verse, the others, grouped in the body of the church with the congregation, to respond with the following verse.

Prof. Otten was well pleased with the voices which he heard last night, and it is expected that at the next rehearsal there will be a larger attendance, the members intending to bring friends to take part. No great previous training is required for eligibility for membership in the class.

IS A POPULAR PROGRAM.

Tschaikowsky's "Pathetic" and Campanari Features This Week.

The Pittsburgh orchestra program Conductor Emil Paur has prepared for next Friday evening and Saturday afternoon contains the Tschaikowsky "Pathetic" symphony, which has come to be the best known here of all the modern symphonies. In past years when concert patrons were asked to vote for the most popular work in symphonic form, the "Pathetic" symphony was chosen on two occasions. Mr. Paur first brought to the attention of Europe the works of Tschaikowsky and he has remained perhaps the greatest interpreter of this composer.

The program this week includes the admired variations by Brahms on the choral "St. Anthony," and the Mephisto waltz by Liszt, one of this composer's most dramatic works. The first number this week is the overture "Benvenuto Cellini" by Berlioz, to be played instead of the work by Converse, previously announced.

The soloist is Mr. Campanari, one of the few great singers available this year, and his work in other cities this season shows him to be in the finest voice.

THE SHEA VERSION OF "JEKYLL AND HYDE"

Every seat in the big Bijou theater was taken last night and numbers stood to see Thomas E. Shea in a dramatization of the well known Stevenson story. This interest was perhaps added to by the manifesto recently issued by Richard Mansfield threatening an infringement suit against Shea. The Shea production differs radically from either that of Mr. Mansfield or of the Forepaugh-Fiske version which was used recently by the local stock company. There are no real standards of value in regard to the several versions of the story. They are all bad enough and clumsy enough from a constructive standpoint from Mansfield's down—or up, as you choose. Naturally Mr. Shea's version, which the bills tell us was made by Eugene Thomas for the actor's own use, is obviously for melodramatic effect. Its dramatic unfolding is so obvious, and all outside of the immediate characterization of the dual role is so insipid and absurd that one very easily agrees with all the actors who play the part, that it is one of the worst plays ever put forward. But there is that singular and gruesome character, the offspring of Stevenson's genius, with its strangely psychologic appeal to every one of us who realize the fact of man's dual nature. It is an overwhelmingly interesting character study set in a labyrinth of very dull or very theatric detail when viewed as a stage product.

Mr. Shea's play drags when Jekyll or Hyde is not in evidence. There is a more explicit introduction, detailing the facts necessary as a foundation for the action; the comedy is hungrily introduced, though in this particular there is a more intelligently and orderly regard for consistency than was the case in the version used by the stock company. It will be remembered that Mr. Mansfield subordinates the comedy entirely. In portrayal Mr. Shea adheres very closely to the purposes indicated in the version of the story he is using. It is a melodramatic characterization, elaborated on the side of its humor and accentuated so as to provoke immediate and broad results. Mr. Shea falls into the common error of introducing Dr. Jekyll as a man of deep gloom. His Jekyll fairly revels in morbid forebodings and counsels misery from his very finger tips. Even the caresses of his fiancee fail to warrant him to anything like normal manhood, which a reading of the story would indicate Jekyll to have been in his early career. This may be melodramatically effective, but it isn't the harmony of artistic interpretation.

As Hyde Mr. Shea is on surer ground. Though he too, uses a spot light his Hyde is quite a strong and repulsive portrayal. The transformation scene, when tracked to the laboratory of Jekyll by Utterson, was an exceedingly effective piece of acting. In make-up and in vigor of impersonation, Mr. Shea has a very creditable score against the redoubtable Mansfield; otherwise there is no comparison that can be honestly made that need drive Mr. Mansfield into fear that his laurels will be disturbed. Mr. Shea's support showed to better advantage in the Stevenson play than in either of the preceding efforts of the company. Shea's "Jekyll and Hyde" is patently played for immediate effect. It is less a study and more a melodrama, for obvious reasons, but within these limitations it does credit to the talents of the ambitious young star. Tonight, "The Bells."

PRINCE MIRSKY'S STAR NOW IN DECLENSION

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—Emperor Nicholas has not yet accepted Prince Svistopolk-Mirsky's resignation of the ministry of the interior. The minister has informed his majesty of his desire to be relieved of the office because the imperial reform program did not go far enough to meet his views, but the emperor so far has persuaded him to remain in the ministry.

Prince Svistopolk-Mirsky's retirement soon, however, is regarded as certain, and M. Witte apparently is equally certain of becoming the Bismarck of Russia, despite the fact that he is cordially hated as well as feared at court.

M. Witte's friends, however, do not believe that he will accept the ministry of the interior, being of the opinion that nothing less than the post of chancellor, which would give him official dignity as well as power, would satisfy him if the emperor should call him to the helm at the present crisis.

NATIONAL BASEBALL COMMISSION WRANGLES OVER MINOR LEAGUES

STILL WRANGLING OVER THE MINORS

National Commission Having a Lively Time—Ban Johnson Fighting the Demands.

HARRY PULLIAM IS IMPROVING

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—Today's session of the National baseball commission at the Laugherty club house, 20 miles below the city, began with the consideration of the changes in the national agreement desired by the National Association of Minor Leagues. President Powers of the Eastern league, Judge Kavanaugh, president of the Southern league; President Murnane of the New England league, Managers Hanlon of Baltimore, Stallings of Buffalo, President Griffiths of Jersey City and others made speeches, most of them urging greater consideration for the minor leagues. The first point to come up is the increase in the price to be paid for drafting minor league players and the decreasing of the number of players to be thus taken from any one team.

Ban Johnson, president of the American league, declared that he was opposed to the request of the minor leagues regarding drafted players. Instead of the plan for changing the national agreement suggested by the minor league men, Johnson offered a substitute, which has been taken under advisement by the representatives of the National Association of Minor Leagues. Johnson proposes that each club in the National and American leagues be limited to the drafting of not more than four or five players each year. He favored $1,000 as the maximum price for drafted men.

While Ban Johnson was presenting his plan for a compromise to the meeting there was a warm exchange of opinions between him and President Herrmann of the Cincinnati club, whom Johnson declared responsible for the condition resulting from the paying of high prices for untried players. After the argument had continued for some time, President Johnson declared that "the bridle must be put on this minor league question or everybody will be swamped. The only reasonable way to prevent competition and wild bidding seems a 12-club circuit, and I consider that impossible."

President Harry Pulliam of the National league, who is threatened with pneumonia, was reported much better today.

ESLER MAY BE CHOSEN.

Durham Says Announcement as to the Chairmanship Must Await the Election of a Senator.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Insurance Commissioner Israel W. Durham said today: "There will be no official announcement as to who will succeed Ward R. Bliss as chairman of the house appropriations committee until after the election of a United States senator. The same silence, for the same period, will be maintained in reference to the make-up of the committees."

In some quarters it is believed that James M. Esler of Allegheny will succeed Mr. Bliss. His selection as one of the floor managers is considered significant of such a plan. It is believed that Mr. Esler is peculiarly fitted for the position. He served as census supervisor for Allegheny county in 1900, and his connection with insurance companies gives him the necessary mathematical skill in dealing with appropriations on a large and small scale.

SHEVLIN FOR CAPTAIN.

Rockwell Is Ineligible to Lead the Yale Eleven.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—As soon as the football players are here they will be called together to ballot for a captain for the 1905 eleven. It can now be stated with certainty that their choice will be Thomas Lee Shevlin, Jr., of Minneapolis, Minn., the old Hill school athlete. This is settled by the statement, on good authority, that Rockwell, the star quarterback, has been declared ineligible, and cannot stand as a candidate.

Rockwell's case has often been rehearsed, and it is well known that the fact that he played three minutes in the Yale-Trinity football game in the fall of 1901 counts for a year in athletics, and robs him for the coming season of being on the Yale eleven, including the captaincy.

Princeton—32.		Swarthmore—19.
Ely	Forward	Palmer
Kahler, McLean	Forward	Hood
Clark, Hooks	Center	Clement
Vanderbilt	Guard	Sensenderfer
Trone	Guard	Sinclair, Vernon

Goals from field—Clark 4, Ely 3, Vanderbilt 3, Trone 4, McLean 3, Hood 3, Clement, Sensenderfer, Vernon. Goals from fouls—Sensenderfer 4, Hood 3, Ely 2, Clark.

Giants' Owner on Trip South.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—John T. Brush, president of the New York National league baseball club, sailed today on the steamship Arapahoe of the Clyde line on a trip through the different cities in the south. He was accompanied by Fred Knowles, secretary of the club. At Savannah, Ga., they will join Manager McGraw and his collection of champion Giants, who will train at that place for two or three weeks.

South Side Makes Claim.

The South Side management last night insisted that the score in the Carnegie game Monday night was a tie at 5. The score was 5 to 3 in Carnegie's favor until Liebau threw a field goal, then an outsider claimed a foul for Carnegie, which neither official scorer knew of and declined to put on the board. The South Siders also claim the referee refused to give his decision.

BOXING SHOW WIND-UP WAS A STIRRING AFFAIR

Jack McDonough Was Punched All Over the Ring, Through the Ropes, and Finally Knocked Out.

There was a rattling good finish to "Red" Mason's boxing show given at the Business Men's gymnasium out Fifth avenue last night. It was in the shape of a quick knockout and was what the crowd of fight lovers had been longing for all evening.

The participants in the final bout were Dick Moore and Jack McDonough, a pair of local fighters. When they faced each other McDonough assumed the Jeffries' crouch, but the first punch handed him took the crouch away, and after that he was too busy stopping blows to think of the crouch. The shower of rights and lefts sent in by Moore drove McDonough all over the ring and though the ropes and the spectators had to push him back into the ring. Once he went down and when the referee had counted eight he got up and sent in a wallop that nearly floored Moore.

The second round was a repitition of the first, with McDonough acting as a punching bag, stopping all kinds of blows about the face and body. After about two minutes of fighting McDonough went to the floor, where he stayed for the count. There was another rattling good bout between Reagen of the West End and Jim Clarke of this city. This bout was only for four rounds, but it was full of fight, with the honors about even. The laughable bout of the evening was between Jimmy Gritt, who looks like a small edition of Tom Sharkey, and Jimmy Burns. Gritt knew little about the fighting game, but he is well named, as he showed plenty of grit and took his punishment without a murmur.

Ed Riddle, a Fort Wayne engineer, who looks big enough to fight Jeffries, and John Brennen put up a very poor display, neither one seeming to know what to do, and the bout was stopped after the third round. Patsy Brannigan and Young Zirringer put up a fast five-round bout. This was to have been a rough-and-tumble affair, but some over-zealous friend of Zirringer gave him some whisky, which made him sick, and the referee very properly stopped the bout.

WILL HAVE A TOURNEY.

Fencing Competition Will Be a Social as Well as Athletic Event.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Announcement is made that a fencing competition with foils will be held at the Washington Turnverein club, January 28, in which club teams from several eastern cities will compete for the Cassini cup, recently offered by the Russian ambassador.

This will be an event of great social as well as athletic interest, as the membership of the Washington Fencers' club is drawn from the diplomatic circles of the capital. Count Cassini will preside in person, while Vicomte de Faramond, naval attache of the French embassy, will direct the fencing.

WHAT THE INDEPENDENT PLAYERS ARE DOING

Outfielder John Herwick has signed with San Francisco. He played with Altoona and Sharon last season.

Youngstown will pull away from the Independent association, but will join the Steel Works league when it is formed.

There is a letter at this office for Charlie Starr.

Jimmy Canler, the clever Waynesburg middle fielder, will stay at home next season. He is wanted by minor league managers.

CROKER TURNED DOWN.

Jockey Club Flatly Refuses Him Permission to Train at Newmarket.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Richard Croker has received the following from the secretary of the Jockey club in reply to a letter from Mr. Croker asking for an explanation of the refusal of the Jockey club to grant him permission to train his horses at Newmarket:

"The Jockey club will positively not permit training grounds at Newmarket and the private property of the Jockey club, and that no one is allowed to train on the grounds without permission as first asked and received. I am directed by the stewards to inform you that they do not wish you to have your horses trained at Newmarket."

Brooks Declines the Position.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—George H. Brooke, Jr., one of the University of Pennsylvania former football stars, who was last week elected head coach of the football squad for next season, today sent a letter to the football committee of the Pennsylvania Athletic association, declining the place. Brooke says business connections make it impossible for him to take up the duties of a head coach, but added that he would assist in coaching the team whenever his affairs would permit him to do so.

Capt. Bowman Outlines Plans.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Morgan H. Bowman, Jr., captain of the Yale baseball nine, made a statement today outlining the coaching plans for the coming season. Walter Camp will be general head coach, and William L. Lusk, last fielder of the Cleveland nine, will be field coach. He will remain here until the college baseball season closes. Capt. Bowman considers the material for the nine only mediocre, especially the pitchers.

ANOTHER TEST IN THE PROVERBS

Former Prize Winner Defines Illustration to Be Put in Comparison.

RESULT KNOWN NEXT SUNDAY

Encouraged by the liberal participation in the first special proverb problem test offered last week, and with the fact in mind that the test served as a worthy auxiliary educational amusement to the regular contest now being conducted under the auspices of this paper, it has been decided to present today another special test along the same lines and with the same fundamental purpose of demonstrating whether or not the illustrations of proverbs in The Gazette contest are literal and unvarnished reflections of the problems to be solved.

In order to insure a fair and impartial test the manager of the proverb contest appealed to one of the prize winners in the first competition to select a proverb in general use and to define it minutely for illustration. The request was also made that the proverb and its illustration should conform as nearly as possible to the nature of proverbs and illustrations used in the contests conducted by The Gazette to further insure a fair test as to whether the regular illustrations were good, clear definitions, of the intended proverbs.

Send Answers on Postal Cards.

In asking solvers and others interested to engage in solving this special proverb problem No. 2, the request is also made to solve the regular proverb problem appearing in this issue and known as No. 32. In sending in solutions to these two problems it is again desired that postal cards be used. Mainly, because they are more easily and quickly handled, and again, because the expense of those engaging may be placed at the minimum. As was the case in the first special test, no monetary reward will be offered, the fact being clearly apparent that these special tests are for the mutual benefit of all concerned and participating, and that the educational advantage is too clear for comment.

In next Sunday's issue of The Gazette the full result of this second test will be published, as well as the correct answers to both problems in the test and the names of the successful solvers. Furthermore, the name of the prize winner in the first contest, who selected the special proverb and its illustration, will also be given.

Helping Problem Solvers.

To remove any cloud from the minds of solvers it may be said that they will be permitted to take advantage of the publication of the correct answer to regular proverb problem No. 32 on next Sunday, in making their final returns in the second and current contest. In this connection it can again be said that this advantage, in a contest embracing 60 illustrations, is infinitely less than the advantage the test offers in many other directions. All solutions to these problems in the special test which are received by noon on Saturday, will be considered in the final returns.

To any who have but recently appreciated the educational advantages of The Gazette proverb contests, and to any others who may have been inspired by the monetary inducement in the offer of a distribution of $1,800 in 225 prizes, it may be repeated that all previously published illustrations in the current proverb contest can be secured upon application at the business office of The Gazette upon payment of the regular cost of the paper or papers in which the illustrations appeared. This opportunity can, of course, be taken advantage of by those desiring to return one or more solutions to any illustration.

Problem Course Is Appreciated.

A continual source of gratification in conducting these contests is the daily receipt of letters of appreciation. Notwithstanding the facts that these contests have pursued a course of many weeks, these communications are lending additional encouragement every day. While space would not permit a reproduction of any portion of these many letters, a fair composite illustration of them can well be shown in a communication received from one who engaged in the special test last week. It follows:

Pittsburgh, Pa.

Manager Proverb Contest.—On another card I send you solutions to your special proverb test No. 1. Would like to say that the pictures of the proverbs published in The Gazette seem to me admirably suited to the end in view. Some easy, some not so easy, others not so difficult, but baffling at first sight. The easy ones encourage, the hard ones arouse concentration and mental effort, and all are of value as proverbs pure and simple. Mr. Payne's drawings of the coon are delightful. Very truly yours,

MISS F. M. G. C.

THE THREE RIVERS

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 9 o'clock last night was 5.1 feet and the river was stationary.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 10.—(Special.)—At 6 p. m. today the Ohio river at Cincinnati was 12.2 and rising. A slight rise is coming in the river which will not amount to more than an inch or two. This condition will not help affairs in this neighborhood. The river is bank full of new ice. Above the bridges the fields stretch from shore to shore. After passing through the piers of the four bridges here they are well broken up and are not the menace to harbors below the bridges as they are above. The heavy ice is reported to have reached as far down the Ohio river as Crowthersville, Ind. At that point the towboat Oscar Barrett will lay up until milder weather ensues. Many of the boats in the lower part of the river have gone into the Green river for protection. Clear and cold.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; in canal, 5.2; on falls, 3 feet; below locks, snowing.

MARIETTA—River 6 feet and falling. Heavy ice. Navigation entirely suspended.

POINT PLEASANT—River 6 feet 6 inches and falling. Cloudy and cold. Up, T. J. Hatfield and Crescent.

STEUBENVILLE—River 5 feet 7 inches and rising. Clear and cold and ice running.

PARKERSBURG—River 7 feet and falling. Almost closed with ice. Cloudy and colder. No boats.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet 8-10 and falling. Fair and cold.

OIL CITY—River 2 feet 9 inches. Clear and cold.

WHEELING—River 5 feet 10 inches and stationary. Cloudy and cold.

PLANS ARE DELAYED.

Tech Schools Architects Need More Time to Prepare the List of Specifications.

Two weeks more will elapse before the working plans and specifications for the first building to be erected for the Carnegie Technical school will be presented to the committee. Architects Palmer & Hornbostel have asked for a longer time than was at first considered necessary to complete these plans. They had been expected last week.

The statement that the walls of the buildings will be built of mottled buff brick, published this week, is incorrect. The architects have determined to use a gray brick, this shade being considered far more appropriate than any other. Ordinary red brick would be considered next to gray in the quality of harmony with the general character and design of the schools.

RIVER COAL DIVIDEND 77 CENTS A SHARE

Report for the Year Shows Condition Good Despite Several Misfortunes.

Directors of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, at their meeting yesterday, declared a dividend of 77 cents a share. After the meeting the reports for the year ended October 31, were made public. President Francis L. Robbins says:

We have passed through a year of trying and unusually severe conditions. Floods and ice gorges, followed by six months of low water, accidents incident to marine transportation, which no care or precaution can prevent, have been hanched the past year, making it at times impossible to operate the mines or to transport the coal when loaded, and have resulted in unusual loss of life and property. These conditions coming in a year of industrial depression have resulted in cutting down the company's revenues and increasing its expenses.

Your property is in better physical condition than ever before. The same conservative bookkeeping that has existed in the past has been sustained, and the financial condition of the company is sound and healthy.

The statement of the earnings for the year follows:

BOATMEN ARE GETTING BACK.

Crews of Towboats Have Returned to Their Homes Again.

The crews of all the towboats tied up along the river on account of the ice have returned to their homes, leaving only a watchman on each boat. Rivermen have no hope of immediate relief, although Col. Theodore Poe still claims his prediction of a rise for January 15 is a good one. There were few around the wharf yesterday, however, who were willing to believe the temperature would rise from the zero mark of yesterday to a high enough point to bring rain.

The crew of the Keystone State is still with her at the Monongahela wharf and will await some promise of warmer weather. The Kanawha is also laid up at the wharf. The Bessie Smith, from Parkersburg, is at Wheeling, while the Greenland did not leave Charleston. Rivermen are all confident there will be a rise this month and will be glad when the present cold snap spends its force.

The Rose Hite came in last evening and will not go out again until the weather moderates. Navigation on the Monongahela is suspended until further notice.

Capt. W. A. Blackstock, who piloted the Valiant to Cincinnati with a tow on the last rise, has returned home. The boat is tied up at Hall's woodyard.

A CREAMY FOOD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil prepared as a food—not a food like bread or meat, but more like cream; in fact, it is the cream of cod liver oil. At the same time it is a blood-maker, a nerve tonic and a flesh-builder. But principally it is food for tired and weak digestions, for all who are fat-starved and thin. It is pleasant to take; children like it and ask for more.

THE PILLS THAT CURE RHEUMATISM

Mrs. Henry Story, of No. 532 Muskingum Ave., Zanesville, Ohio, says: "My husband suffered from rheumatism so that he could hardly stand. His back hurt and he had such pain in his left arm that he could not rest night or day. The doctor did him no good and it was not until he tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that he was helped. Six boxes cured him completely and he has not had an ache or a pain since. We think the pills are the best medicine in the world."

cure rheumatism because they make new blood. It would be folly not to try a remedy with such a convincing record of cures.

STOCK MARKETS DULL, PRICE CHANGES NARROW

As Many Net Gains as Losses in Wall Street. Union Trust Advanced $225 a Share on the Pittsburgh Board.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Yesterday was the dullest day of the year so far in the stock market, the sales in Wall street falling below a half million shares and in Pittsburgh slightly exceeding 4,000 shares. Prices were irregular, the fluctuations narrow and the net changes at the close embraced as many gains as losses. The actual news of the day, as a rule, was favorable, while what might be classed as sentimental influences were unfavorable. The directors of United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry more than fulfilled expectations by declaring a quarterly dividend on the preferred stock of 1¾ per cent, and increase for the quarter of ½ per cent and an increase at the rate of 2 per cent per annum. The Nashville & Chattanooga directors declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, an increase of ½ per cent. The directors of the Electric company of America declared a semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent, an increase of ½ per cent.

Developments in the money market were also of a favorable character. Although there were additional engagements of gold for export, and indications that the movement will continue next week, the rates for both call and time loans were easy and funds were offered in abundance. The Imperial Bank of Germany reduced its rate of discount from 5 to 4 per cent, indicating that the receipt of American gold is having its effect upon that market, or perhaps that the foreign money market was going prepared for a favorable reception of the Russian war loan, which is to be offered for subscription tomorrow. Regarding this loan, cable advices from Berlin stated that the advance subscriptions foreshadowed an "enormous success," but such statements may be taken with grains of allowance. The foreign bankers have a difficult task on hand to float a war loan for Russia, and this difficulty has been increased since the fall of Port Arthur. It is the way of underwriting syndicates, however, to announce oversubscriptions for loans, even if they have to subscribe themselves and carry the burden over into more propitious times.

Among the sentimental influences at work were reports as to the intentions of the president in regard to tariff revision and the regulation of railroad rates. There was also a report that Mr. Lawson would lay before the comptroller of the currency at Washington evidence regarding the connection of a leading New York bank with a recent notorious stock jobbing scheme, and try to enlist the national authorities in his crusade. Mr. Lawson was also out in one of his characteristic "issues" full of mysterious inuendoes, but containing nothing of real importance.

The stock market took little note of any of the news or gossip of the day, and the dealings were almost entirely professional. Metropolitan Street Railway, which was under selling pressure on Monday, recovered most of the loss and ruled strong, closing at a net gain of 1⅜ per cent. Southern Pacific was the strongest of the Harriman group and closed at a net advance of 1¼ per cent. St. Paul closed ¼ higher and Illinois Central ⅝ higher. New York Central closed ½ lower and Pennsylvania ⅝ lower. In the industrial list Sugar closed 1 point higher and Amalgamated Copper ⅜ higher. Steel common closed a fraction lower and the preferred a fraction higher. Cast Iron Pipe after making new high records reacted sharply and closed ⅝ lower for the common and ⅝ lower for the preferred. United States Rubber issues sold at the highest prices for more than a year and closed at net gains. The Union Pacific directors held a regular meeting, at which it was reported the question of appealing the Northern Securities case would be decided, but no news was given out.

Wheat was strong and higher on the large decrease in the world's visible supply of 6,355,000 bushels for the week, and on the estimate of the reserves in farmers' hands, placing the amount at 195,000,000 bushels, compared with 228,000,000 a year ago and 273,000,000 two years ago.

The most prominent feature of the local stock market was the advance of $225 a share in Union Trust. The stock, which sold at $2,975 a share, is now within $25 a share of the record price made two years ago. The total advance since New Year's day amounts to $475 a share, and is based upon the increase in the stock of the Mellon National bank, owned by the Union Trust, which it is expected will be followed by a larger volume of business and possibly the development of a new field. Dealings in the remainder of the bank list were unimportant. Pittsburgh Coal common rallied a fraction to 21¾, but reacted to 21½ and closed unchanged. Only 62 shares of the preferred changed hands all day at a net gain of ¼ per cent. Pittsburgh Plate Glass declined 3 per cent to 125 and closed at that price bid. Crucible Steel common was unchanged at 11¼ to 11½, and the preferred closed a shade firmer. Union Switch and Signal sold at 88½, and closed at that price bid. American Sewer Pipe sold at 29, the highest ever quoted, and Tonopah Extension also made a new high mark by selling at $3.80. National Fire Proofing preferred closed ½ higher at 34½. The bond market was moderately active and firm.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

American Sewer Pipe sold at 29, the highest ever quoted. The bonds advanced 1 per cent.

Pittsburgh Coal declared the regular quarterly dividend but remained very dull.

River Coal declared a dividend of 77 cents a share, but the stock did not change hands.

Switch & Signal and Fire Proofing preferred higher. Plate Glass lower.

IN WALL STREET.

Favorable news and unfavorable rumors alike without influence on the stock market.

Trading was very dull, sales footing up 436,600 shares stock and $3,705,000 bonds.

Cast Iron Pipe increased its preferred dividend and the stock reached a new high record.

United States Rubber stocks also advanced to the highest prices for more than a year.

Standard railroad stocks were irregular, some closing higher and some lower.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The declaration of the regular quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on Pittsburgh Coal preferred yesterday, which is payable January 25 to stock of record January 18, was expected, and therefore had no effect upon the stock. Less than a hundred shares of the preferred changed hands at a fractional advance. The common closed unchanged for the day. The declaration of 77 cents a share on River Coal preferred, or 1.54 per cent, was also about as expected and the stock did not change hands all day, but closed offered at 30½, a decline of ¼. The annual report of the River Coal Company, which will be submitted at the annual meeting on the 18th inst., was given out by the board and a synopsis will be found in another column of this morning's Gazette. President E. L. Robbins confirms the statement made in this column the other day when he recites the unusual drawbacks of the past fiscal year, but says that the physical condition of the property is better than every before. Since the organization of the company the fixed investments have increased $851,217, while the bonded debt has been reduced $741,000. River Coal bonds sold yesterday at 111½, and closed at that price bid.

The advance of $475 a share in Union Trust stock is less than two weeks has attracted much attention. All last year only 25 shares of the stock changed hands at the uniform price of $2,800 a share, and these sales all occurred in December. So far this month 45 shares have changed hands at prices ranging from $2,700 to $2,975. The buying last month and so far this month was evidently based upon knowledge of the contemplated increase in the capital of the Mellon National bank, which is owned by Union Trust, and the announcement of which was made in The Gazette yesterday.

The City Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent, payable forthwith.

On the exchange $500 was bid for the privilege of exchanging within the next 60 days 500 shares Westinghouse Electric for 500 shares Union Switch and Signal.

Pittsburgh stock exchange seats were quoted at $8,950 bid, $10,000 asked.

The directors of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad Company declared a semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on the stock of the company. This is an increase of ½ of 1 per cent over the previous payment and places the stock on a 5 per cent basis. The following is a record of the dividends paid by the company for a series of years: 1893, 4¼ per cent; 1889 to 1892, 5 per cent yearly; 1888, 4½ per cent; 1887, 4 per cent; 1886, 3½ per cent; 1885, 3 per cent; 1884, 3½ per cent; 1883 to 1878 4 per cent yearly; 1880 to 1905 none; February, 1904, 2 per cent; August, 1904, 2 per cent.

In Wall street dealings were much larger on the advance than on the decline. That is to say, in the phrase of the board room the market bulled hard, but there was no notable pressure to sell and such as there was was not pushed at times lower in spite of prices. Such a condition serves to dissuade the bears from making short sales in the market.

Of special movements in yesterday's market that in Louisville & Nashville was plainly due to the increase in the dividend of its subsidiary stock, Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis.

The restoration of the full preferred dividend rate by United States Cast Iron Pipe preferred was the ground for the activity with profit taking in that stock, and probably influenced some of the trading in other industrial specialties.

The strong attraction for gold at Paris continued, as did the preparations for further large shipments from New York. The official statement of the production of gold at the Rand for December, giving the output as 362,264 ounces, a third attention on account of the uninterrupted expansion shown in the monthly rate of output from that center. The maximum production of gold in the Transvaal was 453,709 ounces, which was in August, 1854. The present rate of increase, which has gone on steadily since the resumption after the Boer war, thus promises to bring the supply from that field up to the maximum within the next year. The importance of this large source of replenishment for the world's stock of gold must be taken account of in the consideration of money and financial prospects.

The directors of the Electric Company of America yesterday increased the semi-annual dividend on the stock of the company to 3½ per cent from 3 per cent, thus putting the issue on a 7 per cent basis.

The Central Railroad Company of New Jersey declared the regular quarterly dividend of 2 per cent.

Gold to the amount of $2,500,000 left San Francisco yesterday on the steamer China for Japan. All the gold bars which the New York assay office can produce up to the latter part of next week have been engaged for export to Europe. The latter order is from Baring, Magoun & Co., who will ship about $500,000 at the end of next week. The engagement of $800,000 by Lazard-Freres, previously announced, will be sent out tomorrow and about the same amount will be sent to Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., the early part of next week, the engagement of which was announced several days ago. Further inquiries were made at the assay office yesterday, but the firms considering the matter did not care to make definite engagements as yet for a period so long ahead.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The rates for money hardened in the market today owing to the deposit of tenders for Irish land stock and the call for $8,750,000 of the Mexican 4 per cent loan. Discounts were dearer, due partly to the continued drain of gold from Paris. On the Stock Exchange a better undertone prevailed. The business was small at first, operators awaiting the result of the loan, loans enders and the general carry over tomorrow. Consols relapsed after opening with an advance owing to the uncertainty of the money market. Americans started better, but afterward generally lagged. Argentines, especially Buenos Ayres, Great Western, Canadian Pacific, Denver & Rio Grande, United States Steel Corporation, and Illinois Central Railroad shares caused a few setbacks, but the market closed steady, Russians showed a further improvement owing to continued continental support. Imperial Japanese government 6s of 1904 were quoted at 97¼. Argentine bonds were bought on heavy crop prospects. Consols for money, 85 5-16. Consols (account), 85 7-16. Bar silver, quiet at 2 13/16d per an ounce. Money, 1¼@2¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2⅜ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2⅜@2 11-16 per cent.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Prices at the opening of the bourse today were firm. The lowering of the German discount rate from 5 to 4 per cent produced a good impression. Toward the close prices became heavier. The Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 90.40 and Russian bonds of 1904, 90. Three per cent rentes, 97 francs 92½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 14½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Trading on the bourse today was extremely quiet. Exchange on London, 20 marks 42½ pfgs for checks. Discount rates—Short bills, 2¾ per cent; three months' bills, 2⅝ per cent. The rate of discount of the Imperial Bank of Germany was reduced today from 5 to 4 per cent.

Banks and the Treasury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(Special.)—Its redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out yesterday $45,372. Of this amount $27,800 had been deposited at San Francisco and $21,572 at Seattle. Total thus paid since Friday, $87,542. Total payments by government to New York banks for the day, $1,450,000. Payment by banks to government, $2,887,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $737,000 paid by government to banks. Total net payment by government to banks since Friday, $1,462,000, against $951,000 similarly paid for the corresponding period a week ago, and $1,550,000 also paid by government to banks a year ago.

BUTTER MARKET DEAD WITH THE HIGH PRICES

Dealers Will Not Buy on the Last Advance, as Consumers Will Not Pay the Rate.

The butter market fell dead yesterday with the advance of a cent a pound announced by the Elgin board Monday. Dealers simply will not buy the product at the present rate, as it is almost impossible to sell it. At the present price of prints a retailer cannot sell butter for less than 33c to 40c a pound. Of course there are a few families, those who never know how hard it is to gather a dollar together, and who have plenty of them, to whom 40-cent butter is no hardship. But these do not make the market. It is the man of moderate wages who does the buying and creates the demand. He has been crowded out of the butter market by the exorbitant price and has gone back to oleomargarine. Wholesale dealers in butter were doing absolutely nothing yesterday. Their trade would not touch the high-priced butter.

Eggs are in much the same condition. The only thing that is keeping them up is the deep snow, which has rendered country roads impassable. When the farmers can get to town again they will flood the market with fresh eggs and the price will drop with a bump. A week of warm weather now would bring the price down 8c or 10c a dozen. In the meantime the holders of storage stock are hurrying it off their hands in order not to get caught when the market slumps.

Wholesalers think sugar will go on up to 6.50c. This is expected to be the top figure. Coffee is growing stronger and looks like another advance. Flour has reacted with the stronger wheat market and may advance 10c or 15c a barrel any time. Some dealers look for an advance today. In all other lines in the local markets business was very dull yesterday. The produce men were doing almost nothing. Country merchants are not ordering, for it is too cold to ship.

Receipts of fruit and produce continue light. As reported yesterday they were: Apples, 1 car, making 13; cabbage, 2 cars, making 3; celery, 4 cars, making 6; onions, 4 cars, making 12.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts of hay and grain yesterday were as follows: Pennsylvania lines, 10 cars hay, 5 cars corn; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 5 cars hay, 4 cars oats; Baltimore & Ohio, 1 car hay, 6 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 1 car straw.

Business in the hay and grain market yesterday was comparatively quiet. The receipts were light, but everything was taken readily that came in. Prices did not change, although all lines are reported strong. The receipts of straw have been exceedingly light for a couple of weeks and the market for it has been correspondingly active. Wheat and oats are still holding up well, while rye is draggy. There is less business being done in hay than before the holidays, but the trade is good and the prices are holding steady.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—There is a strong market for wool, with trade very quiet because of the small offerings. Large and small mills have been buying, but not in large lots. The most important movements have been in delaine wools and the closing out of some Montanas.

The trading in territory wool has been distributed, with prices maintained. Pulled wools are steady. Foreign grades are firm. Leading quotations are:

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of five points in response to higher European cables and rather bullish Brazilian cables estimating the amount of coffee remaining in the interior of Santos at 1,000,000 bags and the coming harvest at 6,000,000 bags. Later, however, the French market reacted and the initial gain in the local market was barely maintained as Europe was selling and some of the bulls appeared to be gradually reducing their lines. The close was steady, not unchanged to five points higher. Sales were reported of 94,250 bags, including March at 7.90c; May at 8.15c; July at 8.30c; September at 8.50@8.55c; December, 8.75c. Spot steady. Sugar, raw strong; fair refining, 4½c; centrifugal, 5c; molasses sugar, 4¼c; refined firm.

HEAVY PROFIT-TAKING WEAKENED THE MARKET

Wheat Closes at a Loss of Nearly Cent—Corn Is Up a Shade.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Heavy profit-taking today caused a weak finish in the wheat market. The May delivery, after almost equaling last September's high figure, closed at a loss of ⅝c as compared with yesterday. Corn is up a shade. Oats show a gain of ⅝c. Provisions are down 2½@5c.

The wheat market at the opening gave indications of some willingness to sell below the figures current at the end of the previous day's session. Initial quotations on May were unchanged to ⅛c lower at $1 17 to $1 17⅛. The factor that inspired the early selling was a decline in prices at Liverpool. Aside from the weakness of foreign prices, however, the tenor of general news was bullish. Northwestern receipts were small and the extreme cold weather in the northwest promised a continuance of light movement from the farms. The visible supply statistics showed a decrease of 353,000 bushels. As a result bearish sentiment in the pit soon gave way and the market became remarkably strong. Shorts were active buyers, and quickly bid up the price of May to $1 18¾, a price only a trifle below the high point touched during the speculative furore due to the northwestern crop calamity. Later in the day all of the advance was lost, and prices dropped to a point considerably below yesterday's closing quotations, May selling off to $1 16½. The break was due largely to heavy realizing sales by a leader of the bull clique. There was also moderate selling resulting from a partial let-up in demand for wheat for export. The local market closed rather weak, with May at $1 16⅞. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 56,000 bushels. World's supply as shown by Bradstreet's, decreased 6,325,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 479,500 bushels, compared with 780,600 bushels a year ago. Receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis were 226 cars, as against 781 cars last week and 408 cars a year ago. Covering by local shorts and a fair demand from commission houses held the corn market comparatively firm in spite of lower prices at Liverpool. The bulge in wheat also had considerable influence. May opened a shade to ⅛c lower at 44⅝@44¼c to 44½c, sold between 44⅝@44½c and 44¾@44⅝c, and closed at 44¾c. Local receipts were 384 cars, with five of contract grade.

The oats market was dull, with trading mostly of a scalping character. The large increase in the visible supply had a tendency to weaken prices. An improved cash demand was an additional bullish factor. May opened unchanged at 30¾c, sold up to 31¼c and closed at the highest point. Local receipts were 144 cars.

Provisions held fairly steady in the face of heavy offerings. Higher cables and moderate receipts of hogs had a tendency to revive bullish sentiment. No special demand, however, was in evidence. Prices at the close showed slight losses, May pork being off 5c at $12 87½. Lard was down 2½@5c at $6 55@6 87½. Ribs were 2½@ lower at $6 62½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 16 cars; corn, 143 cars, oats, 76 cars; hogs, 39,000 head.

CONVENTION OF MINERS DELAYED

The Committee Failed to Meet, Which Kept Delegates from Transacting Business.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS READ

Because of a misunderstanding, the fault of nobody knows who, the second day's session of the United Mine Workers' district convention was practically so much time wasted, it being necessary to adjourn without transacting any real business. The mix-up or misunderstanding was in the committee on resolutions.

The convention has listened to the reading of the reports of President Patrick Dolan, Vice President Uriah Bellingham and Secretary-Treasurer William Dodds, and then the committee on resolutions was called upon for a report. The chairman stated the members had not appeared at the place and time set for a meeting of the committee, and the committeemen replied that the chairman himself was not present at the place named for holding the meeting at the appointed time. This dispute caused quite a commotion, but when it was sifted out the interesting and somewhat amusing fact developed that all the members of the committee were at the proper place at the proper time, but not being acquainted with each other failed to get together. The convention adjourned to give the committee another chance to get together and make a report, which is to be submitted at this morning's session.

Secretary Dodd's report was interesting. He stated that every operation in the Pittsburgh district proper, the Beaver valley and the Mercer and Butler fields are paying scale rates. The hope is expressed that the miners of the West Penn and Irwin fields will organize sufficiently so that joint agreements can be established between operators and miners.

The membership for December, 1904, was 23,844, as against 21,474 for December, 1903. The average monthly membership reported in tax for 1903 was 17,591, and for 1904, 19,365. The number of members exonerated has been greater this year than in previous years, showing that if all members were working and paying tax the organization in this district would have a membership close to 30,000. The balance in the treasury on December 1, 1903, was $11,549 12; on December 1, 1904, $7,266 63, but of this amount the national assessment unpaid was $2,199 80, which left the actual balance in the treasury December 1, 1904, $5,066 83.

It is stated that during the past year the miners in this district have been at a disadvantage by reason of many railroad mines not being put in operation for lake trade until June, this condition being caused by labor troubles at lake ports; also the majority of river mines have practically been idle since June on account of low water in the rivers, and this condition has continued up to the present time, which has resulted in many local unions being exonerated from the payment of tax and assessment.

The report dwelt on strike disturbances during the year, emphasizing the desirability of adjustment of the district scale to conform with the national agreement entered into between the international convention and coal operators. When the district voted upon this proposition there were 21,386 votes cast. Of this number 6,625 were favorable to striking and 14,761 against a strike, leaving 7,136 of a majority in favor of accepting the proposition.

Railroad News.

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has gained the distinction of being the first steam railroad in the world to reduce the movement of trains by telephone to a systematized practice. A conference of the dispatching forces was held recently, and a set of rules and forms arranged so as to reduce the method of handling trains by telephone to a standardized system. It is the expectation that every non-telegraph station that has a passing siding will be fitted up with a telephone connection to the nearest telegraph office. This will enable the transmission of train orders from the telegraph office to the train crews at such sidings direct, or to an employe stationed there for that purpose.

For some time the Baltimore & Ohio has been extending the use of the telephone for the transmission of ordinary business messages, connecting the division headquarters with the terminals of the divisions by means of the "composite" telephone method. This admits of the simultaneous working of the wires telephonically and telegraphically without interfering with each other. Such circuits among others have been established between Wheeling and Fairmont; Grafton and Wheeling; Pittsburgh and Wheeling and between Wheeling and Holloway, connecting the general superintendent with the various superintendents and terminals with which he deals. Other circuits have been established from Grafton to Clarksburg; Clarksburg to Parkersburg, and from Grafton to Cumberland, thus completing the circuits for the division located at Grafton.

The telephone is also used extensively in single track blocking and for the movement of yard engines, and the connection of non-telegraph stations with telegraph stations by which trains are moved from the former to the latter where the ordinary telegraph orders are received. The telegraph offices average about eight miles apart and at many points the siding extends beyond the telegraph office a distance of about two miles. By having the telephone located at the switches, a train is allowed to use the passing siding up to the outlet switch. Then as soon as the train for which it has been held has passed, the conductor notifies the operator in the block signal tower and he is given permission to proceed with his train to the next block signal office. In this the blocks are practically cut down so far as main track use is concerned, just so much as the side tracks extend into the blocks. In some instances it permits of the use of four miles of passing tracks, leaving but four miles of main track to be covered by the blocking. It is a system that very much facilitates the handling of traffic, and is perfectly safe in the movement of trains. The Baltimore & Ohio will gradually extend the use of the service to all points on its system where it will be beneficial.

C. P. A. Meeting.

The Central Passenger association will hold its regular monthly meeting in Chicago today. An unusually large docket awaits the passenger officials at this session. Probably the most important of the questions listed for discussion is the abolition of Sunday excursions referred to the Central Passenger association by the general passenger agents at their meetings in October. Religious bodies are working hard for a rule abolishing these excursions, and the passenger men are willing and glad to treat the matter fairly.

Trains to Run Intact.

Transportation officials of the Pennsylvania lines view with a great deal of favor the plan of running freight trains intact over several divisions without having them cut up and started over at every division point. The plan is the most effective on the Cleveland-Pittsburgh division, where a number of such trains are run. The officials find the plan to be an economy in time and money.

Railroad Notes.

T. A. Lawes has been appointed mechanical engineer of the Nickel Plate at Cleveland.

E. T. Morrow, superintendent of the West Penn division went west yesterday on a business trip.

E. B. Coolridge, general agent of the Wheeling & Lake Erie at Cleveland, was in the city yesterday.

Yardmaster D. M. Lynch has been transferred from Crestline to Mansfield. Henry Miller will succeed Lynch at Crestline.

The directors of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Company will hold a meeting next Monday when President Joseph Ramsey is expected to be present.

C. C. Landers has been appointed assistant general freight agent of the Wabash railroad at St. Louis. He will have supervision over the tariffs and divisions. The office is a new one.

DELEGATES TO THE UNITED MINE WORKERS' DISTRICT CONVENTION

M. A. WOODWARD'S WILL WAS FILED

Mrs. Jahn Denied Her Husband Fraudulently Conveyed Property to Her and Others.

RAILWAY SUIT IS UP MONDAY

The late Attorney Marcus A. Woodward, whose will was filed Tuesday by his nephews, Attorneys F. R. and M. W. Stoner, his executors. No estimate of the value of the estate is given. Mr. Woodward devises that his estate be held in trust for the sole use of his two children, Anna and Marcus Woodward. He directs that the real estate be sold when it is to the best interest of the estate to do so, and the proceeds invested so as to give each child $2,000 or more annually.

Mrs. Mary Anthony directs that her daughter, Mary J. Anthony, receive the dividends from Monongahela Water Company stock and the interest from other money invested until she is married, after which the estate is to be divided equally among her seven children. She provides that if any contest the will they forfeit their [illegible] to any share.

Mrs. Mary A. Jahn, wife of J. Henry Jahn, now serving six months in jail for forgery and other crimes, filed an answer to the suit brought by Ernest W. Beech and D. F. Smith. She avers that the charge made that Jahn, when discharged from bankruptcy, was possessed of thousands of dollars' worth of real estate is untrue, and that he did not fraudulently conceal the titles by conveying them to others. She alleges that a piece of property conveyed to her was property she had purchased out of her personal estate.

In the equity suit of Robert C. Hall against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in which the plaintiff seeks to prevent the operation of trains on Liberty avenue and Third street, next Monday was fixed for hearing.

Sentences in Criminal Court.

John Hercshy of Hoffman street, Allegheny, was sent to the workhouse for six months for assaulting the minor son of John Lynch of Petrel street, Allegheny.

Alfred Redpath was sent to the workhouse for 60 days for entering the home of Fred Deane, 230 Shady avenue, on October 31.

Herman F. Thoma pleaded guilty of forging a check. Fred C. Huemme pleaded no defense to committing an assault on the daughter of Lizzie Gregg of Forward township.

Joseph Natall, administrator of the estate of Francisco Matassa, entered suit against E. Spoleti, an Italian banker of 419 Wylie avenue, to recover $300. Some months ago Matassa was murdered in Fairmont, W. Va., and had no heirs in this country. The Italian counsel demanded the $300, which the murdered man had deposited in the bank of the defendant, and the payment of the money was refused. Mr. Natall, the administrator, also asked for the money to send it to the legal heirs and payment was refused.

The hearing of divorce cases still proceeds in common pleas court No. 2, 10 cases being heard. Friedrich Wahl brings a charge of desertion against his wife, Anna. He claims that she was married to one Thomas Ratke when he married her. Ratke, he alleges, is still living, and she was never divorced from him. He claims they were married in March, 1902, and she left him in May of the same year. Other cases heard were: Lulu Lewis against Robert E. Lewis, desertion; Emma J. Wright against James G. Wright, desertion; Thomas Williams against Amelia Williams, desertion; Tillie Scott against George A. Scott, indignities; Richard Murphy against Ethel May Murphy, desertion and infidelity; Mary E. Mangold against Charles H. Mangold, cruelty; Frances Fritsch against Martin Fritsch, cruelty; Mary Wall against Thomas N. Wall, desertion.

Asks for a Divorce.

Frank E. Moorman filed a libel in divorce against Gertrude A. Moorman. He charges infidelity, and names "Joe" Morley as corespondent.

Decrees in divorce were: Ida I. Day against George M. Day, Grace M. Magill against Emanuel E. Magill, Hannah Rotman against Benjamin Rotman, Hattie M. Luther against George W. Luther. Howard W. Thomas against Grace E. Thomas, Mahalia L. Chambers against Joseph C. Chambers.

Judge Buffington, in the United States circuit court, handed down an opinion in the case of the Power & Wolfe Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia against the National Radiator Company of Johnstown. The suit alleges the infringement of a patented heater, but the court finds the defendant has a license for the manufacture of the heater and there is no infringement.

John M. Sullivan, a grocer of Erie, filed a petition in bankruptcy. His liabilities are $3,928 70 and his assets $1,759 76.

An involuntary petition was filed against Charles F. Stamm, Jr., of Logan, Blair county. The petitioners, Spangle & Yeager and Thaddeus M. Biddle of Altoona, Christian H. Mock of Martinsburg, and Joseph L. Fetter of Salemville, present claims amounting to $2,096 22.

Suits were entered by S. Cooperman against the Duquesne Mutual Fire Insurance Company, the North American Mutual Fire Insurance Company and the Lafayette Mutual Fire Insurance Company, all Pittsburgh concerns, to recover losses on policies held by him.

Executions issued: Safe Deposit Trust Company, receiver for the Globe Mutual Building and Loan association, vs. William Brownlie, $2,524 20; Charles A. Simms and Sarah Simms, executors, vs. Frank Simms, $2,535 75; Thomas Burns vs. Adam Wagner, Jr., $750; B. H. Voskamp's Sons vs. William A. Parks, $252 39; same vs. same, $363 85; William J. Horwick vs. Jacob Shaponick, $106 50.

In the Oil Fields.

West of Mannington, Marion county, W. Va., the South Penn Oil Company has turned the old gasser on the J. L. Beatty farm into an oil producer of good size. This well was drilled in some years ago and was quite a good gasser, but sprayed some oil. Last week it was cleaned out and produced 150 barrels the first 24 hours. Monday morning they gave it a shot and it produced 660 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

South of the J. L. Beatty farm, Carnahan & Co. have drilled their test on the N. Hawkins farm through the 30-foot and found that formation barren. They are now drilling to the Gordon. The West Virginia and Indiana Oil Company's No. 1 on the Peter Metz farm is doing 8 barrels an hour.

The South Penn Company's No. 6 on the C. S. Pitzer farm is producing better than 200 barrels a day.

In the Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the United States Coal and Oil Company's No. 5 on the M. Barr tract is through the Gordon and shows for a 40-barrel producer.

In the Pine Grove extension, the South Penn Oil Company's No. 4 on the Ellis Dulaney farm is 30 feet into the strav and a fishing job is on hand. In the same district the same company's No. 4 on the J. M. Dulaney farm is drilling in the top of the stray, but has found no oil.

In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Company's test on the E. G. Taylor farm is through all the sands, and is a duster. In the Wallace district, same county, the same company's test on the S. M. Stewart farm is 5 feet in the stray and has developed no oil or gas. In the same locality No. 2 on the S. S. Shriver farm was shot, but failed to respond.

North of Cairo, on Goose creek, Ritchie county, the East and West Oil and Gas Company's No. 6 on the W. Harkness farm is in the salt sand and will be a light pumper.

Near Standing Stone, Wirt county, C. E. Gerwig & Co.'s No. 3 on the James Gray farm is in the Big Injun and has a show for a good producer, better than the average in that district. In the same locality, Hickman & When have started to drill their No. 17 on the A. R. Morros farm from the Cow Run sand to the Big Injun.

In the Rowells run end of the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Carter Oil Company's test on the Camden-Sommers farm is in the Berea grit and has a show for a 50-barrel producer. This location is 800 feet north of the same company's No. 12 on the Rebecca Cunningham farm.

In Mason county, near Glenwood, the Federal Oil Company's wildcat on the Timothy Butler farm is through all sands, including the Berea grit, and is a duster.

Near Sedalia, Doddridge county, the Carter Oil Company has completed its No. 4 on the S. H. Garner farm and has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

On the Ohio side in the Newport district, Washington county, Morrison & Co.'s test on the E. Thomas farm is through the Berea grit and has a show for a 25 or 30-barrel producer. In the same district the same company's Nos. 5 and 7 on the A. Friedal farm are holding up at 100 and 70 barrels respectively.

In the Lowell district, Duff & Co. have completed their test on the Frank or Wentz farm, and when put to pumping will have a light producer. In the same district Andy Bruner & Co. have completed their test on the J. A. Tullins farm and have a duster. In the Marietta district, Chamberlain & Laughlin have completed No. 10 on the M. and M. A. Skipton farm and have a duster. In the Wolf Creek district, in Morgan county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has completed its No. 35 on the H. H. Greenlee farm and have a 10-barrel pumper.

In the Toys Run district, in Washington county, there is some new work starting in advance of developments.

In the Barnesville district, Belmont county, the American Oil Development Company has completed No. 6 on the Michael Montgomery farm and has a 5-barrel pumper. J. H. Kuhns & Co.'s test on the Robert Moore farm has a show for a 4-barrel pumper in the Keener sand.

In the Macksburg field, Washington county, L. Stephens' No. 14 on the James Dixon farm is a 35-barrel producer in the stray below the 800-foot sand. R. T. & J. A. Wickens have completed No. 1 on the W. R. Wickens farm and have a 5-barrel pumper in the Buell Run sand. The Wickens Oil Company has completed No. 22 on the W. R. Wickens farm and has a 4-barrel producer in the same formation.

J. F. Ward has completed his No. 9 on the C. Himmel farm and has a 10-barrel pumper. Dillon, Hess & Co. have completed No. 9 on the E. Driscoll farm and have a 5-barrel pumper in the Buell Run sand.

Near Amsterdam, Jefferson county, the Hickory Nut Oil Company's No. 2 on the Minor heirs' farm is still owing at the rate of 125 barrels a day. The size of the well and the locality in which it is located has the talent guessing.

In the Burgettstown development, Washington county, Pa., Kelly Bros & Cooper have completed their second test on the Keys heirs' farm and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper in the 30-foot sand.

In the Bristoria district, located in Rhinehart hollow, Greene county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the N. J. Johnson farm into the sand and the well produced 160 barrels the first 18 hours. This is the best showing made by any well drilled in Greene county in the past six months.

Well people use Liquozone even more than the sick. Millions use it to keep well. May we buy you a 50c bottle to try?

We who know Liquozone best use it daily in our families, and millions of others do likewise. We use it to ward off germ attacks; to cure the little ills that come. We use it to purify drinking water. And we use it as a tonic, as the best thing in the world for us.

Those who are sick with a germ disease must use it, for there is no other way to destroy the cause of a germ trouble. But those who are well need it, also. Nearly all sickness can be avoided by it; all colds warded off. Liquozone taken in the morning gives one vitality for the duties of the day. Taken at night, it places the stomach and bowels in perfect condition for morning.

Acts Like Oxygen.

Liquozone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there any alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquozone—like an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetal matter.

There lies the great value of Liquozone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquozone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.

Germ Diseases.

These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquozone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

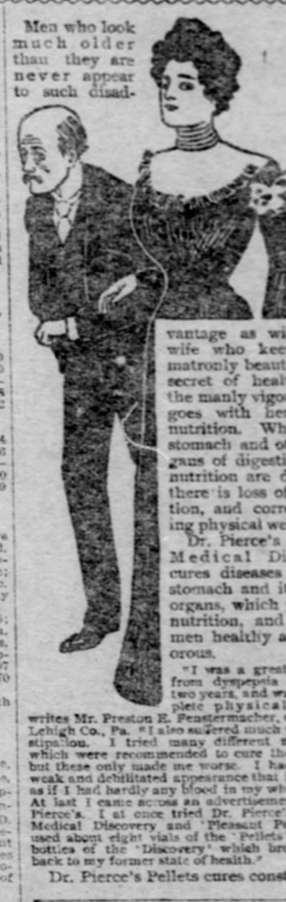
Men who look much older than they are never appear to such disadvantage as with the wife who keeps her matronly beauty. The secret of health and the manly vigor which goes with health is nutrition. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased there is loss of nutrition, and corresponding physical weakness.



Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its allied organs, which prevent nutrition, and makes men healthy and vigorous.

"I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for over two years, and was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Penstermacher, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "I also suffered much with constipation. I tried many different medicines which were recommended to cure the trouble but these only made me worse. I had such a weak and delicate appearance that it seemed as if I had hardly any blood in my whole body. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's. I at once tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery' which brought me back to my former state of health."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.
